To The Reader:

The fact that I am writing this message, the last job to be done for this year's annual, seems like a miracle to me now. Really unbelievable obstacles come up when one tries to capture the history and mood of a school year. One example: at the last minute, entire sections of the "dummy" were thrown away by maintenance engineers who mistook unfinished pages for trash, and we spent one morning digging the faculty section out of the city dump! That's the sort of thing that weighed heavily on my mind.

I hope that you will like the changes I have made in the traditions this annual has previously followed. If in places the Vigilante seems more like a magazine than an autograph annual, just think how times really are a-changing. I hope that the pictures and words will remind you how it was; I have tried to make them bright and fresh. When you look at this yearbook, I hope you will understand that I have tried honestly to make it a true picture of the school year 1967-1968.

VIGILANTE

Helena Senior High School

March 1967-March 1968

Helena, Montana

September October

September fifth was the day, 8:30 a.m. the time, and HHS the place. The happening? Back to school for 1,500 students. Summer vacation had ended.

Mile-long lines in the main office are the usual signs of each new school year, as students try to get their schedules changed. That wasn't true this year. New, blue schedule-change request forms were initiated, saving time for both students and office workers.

Also new this year was the Vocational-Technical building, finished just in time for the beginning of classes.

As the month went on, there was little chance for life to settle into a rut. The football season, with all of its noise and action, was kicked off at a thundering pep assembly.

Students wait for their favorite cheerleader, Mr. Loucks, to make his appearance.

November

In November, students were kept busy by the tail end of the football season, the excitement of the coronation, and last but not least, the annual 3-7-77's dance.

The theme of the dance this year was "Flight 3-7-77." A huge spaceship, stars, and planets decorated the Seventh Avenue Gym. At the dance, the Suns and Dotters, a folk singing group composed of Melanie Moze, Linnea Anderson, Grove Hull, and Nick Cladis, made their first appearance.

Ron Drake, Sue Settle and Jim Lane make decorations for "Flight 3-7-77" Dance.

December

December marked the death of every student's best friend, Bill Bronson. Bill was a non-person created by Jeff Sherlock when he needed a quick witness in a tight squeeze. Although Bill Bronson belonged to Jeff, he was soon adopted by many other students. He signed up for volleyball and track, received mail from colleges, and skipped study halls.

Finally Bill's name came up just once too often, and Mr. Voiles called him to the office. Well, he didn't show up. No one knows exactly how, but Mr. Voiles guessed Bill's secret. That day, the announcement came that Bill Bronson had died. This excerpt from a ballad written by Delores Pollard tells of Bill's death.

Following his will, that Friday we were in mourning;
The coffin stood arrayed in velvet with flowers
adorning.
The sermon was at four; stern pallbearers bore him slowly

Billy did not die as quickly as we had made him;
Still there are some signs that tell you he was around—
His name on a desk, an honor roll guest, and maybe,
This Bill will graduate in sixty-eight, baby.

Pat Tubbs, Jim Lieberg, Tom McPherson, Jeff Sherlock and Tom Johnson carry Bill Bronson's casket across the football field.

Fellow seniors mourn the "passing" of Bill Bronson.

January

For the first time in the history of the school, Helena Senior was scheduled to play Helena Central. This promised to be the most exciting game of the year. Spirits soared at the pep assembly as Nick Cladis and Coach Kinzer burned a Greenie, a former symbol of the Central team. By eight o'clock the gym was filled and overflowing. It was a great game, the score wavering and tying as first one team forged ahead and then the other. The game went into overtime. The gym was charged with the tense, excited yells of the fans. Only one thing marred an otherwise perfect basketball game . . . we lost.

Senior High students focus their attention on Cheerqueen, Barb Hurni

Linda O'Connell and Diane Hoopes drink a toast to their European trip . . . it wouldn't be water, would it?

February

Three of the luckier students from HHS had a welcome break in February. Dianne Hoopes, Linda O'Connell, and Greg Sannes went on a ski tour of Europe while the rest of the school stuck out the regular old grind. The tour, sponsored by Dr. Burgess, visited four countries, Italy, Austria, Switzerland, and Holland. Dianne, Linda and Greg, who all returned with dark tans, were the envy of the school.

Jerry Meyers, Vicki Maierle, Vicki Rose, Guri Paulsen and Doug Sternberg entertain their English class.

March

March was an entertaining month. For those who like to dance, there was the White Rabbit Dance sponsored by the Girls' H Club. For the speech enthusiasts HHS was the host for the State NFL Speech Meet. For those who wanted a good laugh there was the student-faculty basketball game. And in English classes song fests passed the time away.

April

During April the sun was given orders to shine just on week days. Weekends and Easter vacation were windy and gray. Despite the sunshine and green grass, school went on and the poor students had to keep studying, but they spent every spare minute outside, even if only to study some more.

Chris Bloomstrom discovered that wax can be an interesting art media.

May

Busy, busy, busy! This described most people during the month of May. Track meets, tennis meets, golf meets, term papers, Vigilante Parade floats, quarter tests, final tests, picnics, assemblies — something for everyone.

Steve Harper leads a fast pace, followed by Jim Valentine, a Butte runner and Larry Clouser.

June

At last June came. The quiet simple life took over—no studying, no books, no tests. Seniors had the excitement of college and work before them. Sophomores and juniors, relieved that school was finally out for three months, were ready for a summer of fun. It had been a good year.

Bob Huppe and Jim Sims rest in the grass after a busy year.

The class of 1968 is one of the most outstanding the school has even produced. Everything they touched was colored with their enthusiasm, competence, and originality.

Helena High's record of athletic excellence was zealously continued by many seniors. In football, several team members won All State awards for their achievements: Fred Ferris, 1st team; Gary Hanson, Tim Morrow, and Reggie Voiles, 2nd team; and Jim Sims, Honorable Mention. Bob Huppe was named the most valuable wrestler at the Divisional Wrestling Tournament. Kirk Johnson earned a position on the All State basketball team.

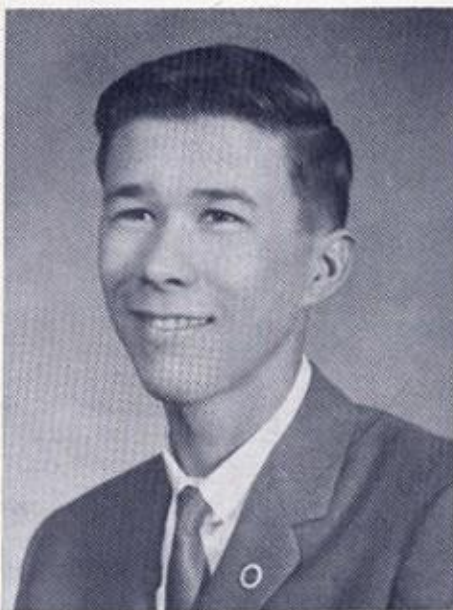

Girls, too, received honors for their energetic efforts. Senior members of the cheerleading squad, Debbie Morgan, Pam Olson, and Barb Hurni, brought home the first place award from the Divisional Basketball tournament for the second year in a row. Sherri Waters, who was chosen Tournament Queen, also reigned as Queen Vigilante this year. The other member of royalty from this class is Barb Hurni, 1967 Vigilante Princess.

Seniors also excelled in leadership and academic achievement. Bob Huppe was elected Lieutenant Governor of Boys State last summer and will be a delegate to Boys Nation this summer. For the first time in the history of Helena High, there were three valedictorians; Marcia Johnson, Bob Huppe, and Doug Jones tied for the honor.

Although this class reached new heights in the usual school pursuits, their most outstanding feature has always been their original wit. Helena High will not soon forget the disappearance of Bill Bronson, the appearance of the "Fillinger for Queen" outhouse, or the lovely cheerleaders for the Student-Faculty basketball game.

JUNIORS

The Junior class officers, with a knack for being different, are Steve Harper, president; Diane Beckstrom, treasurer; Bill Hedge, representative; Vicki Rose, secretary; Steve Hagen, vice president.

The class of '69, having spent their sophomore year learning the rules, spent their junior year developing the talents and abilities which will help them to make the rules next year as Mighty Seniors.

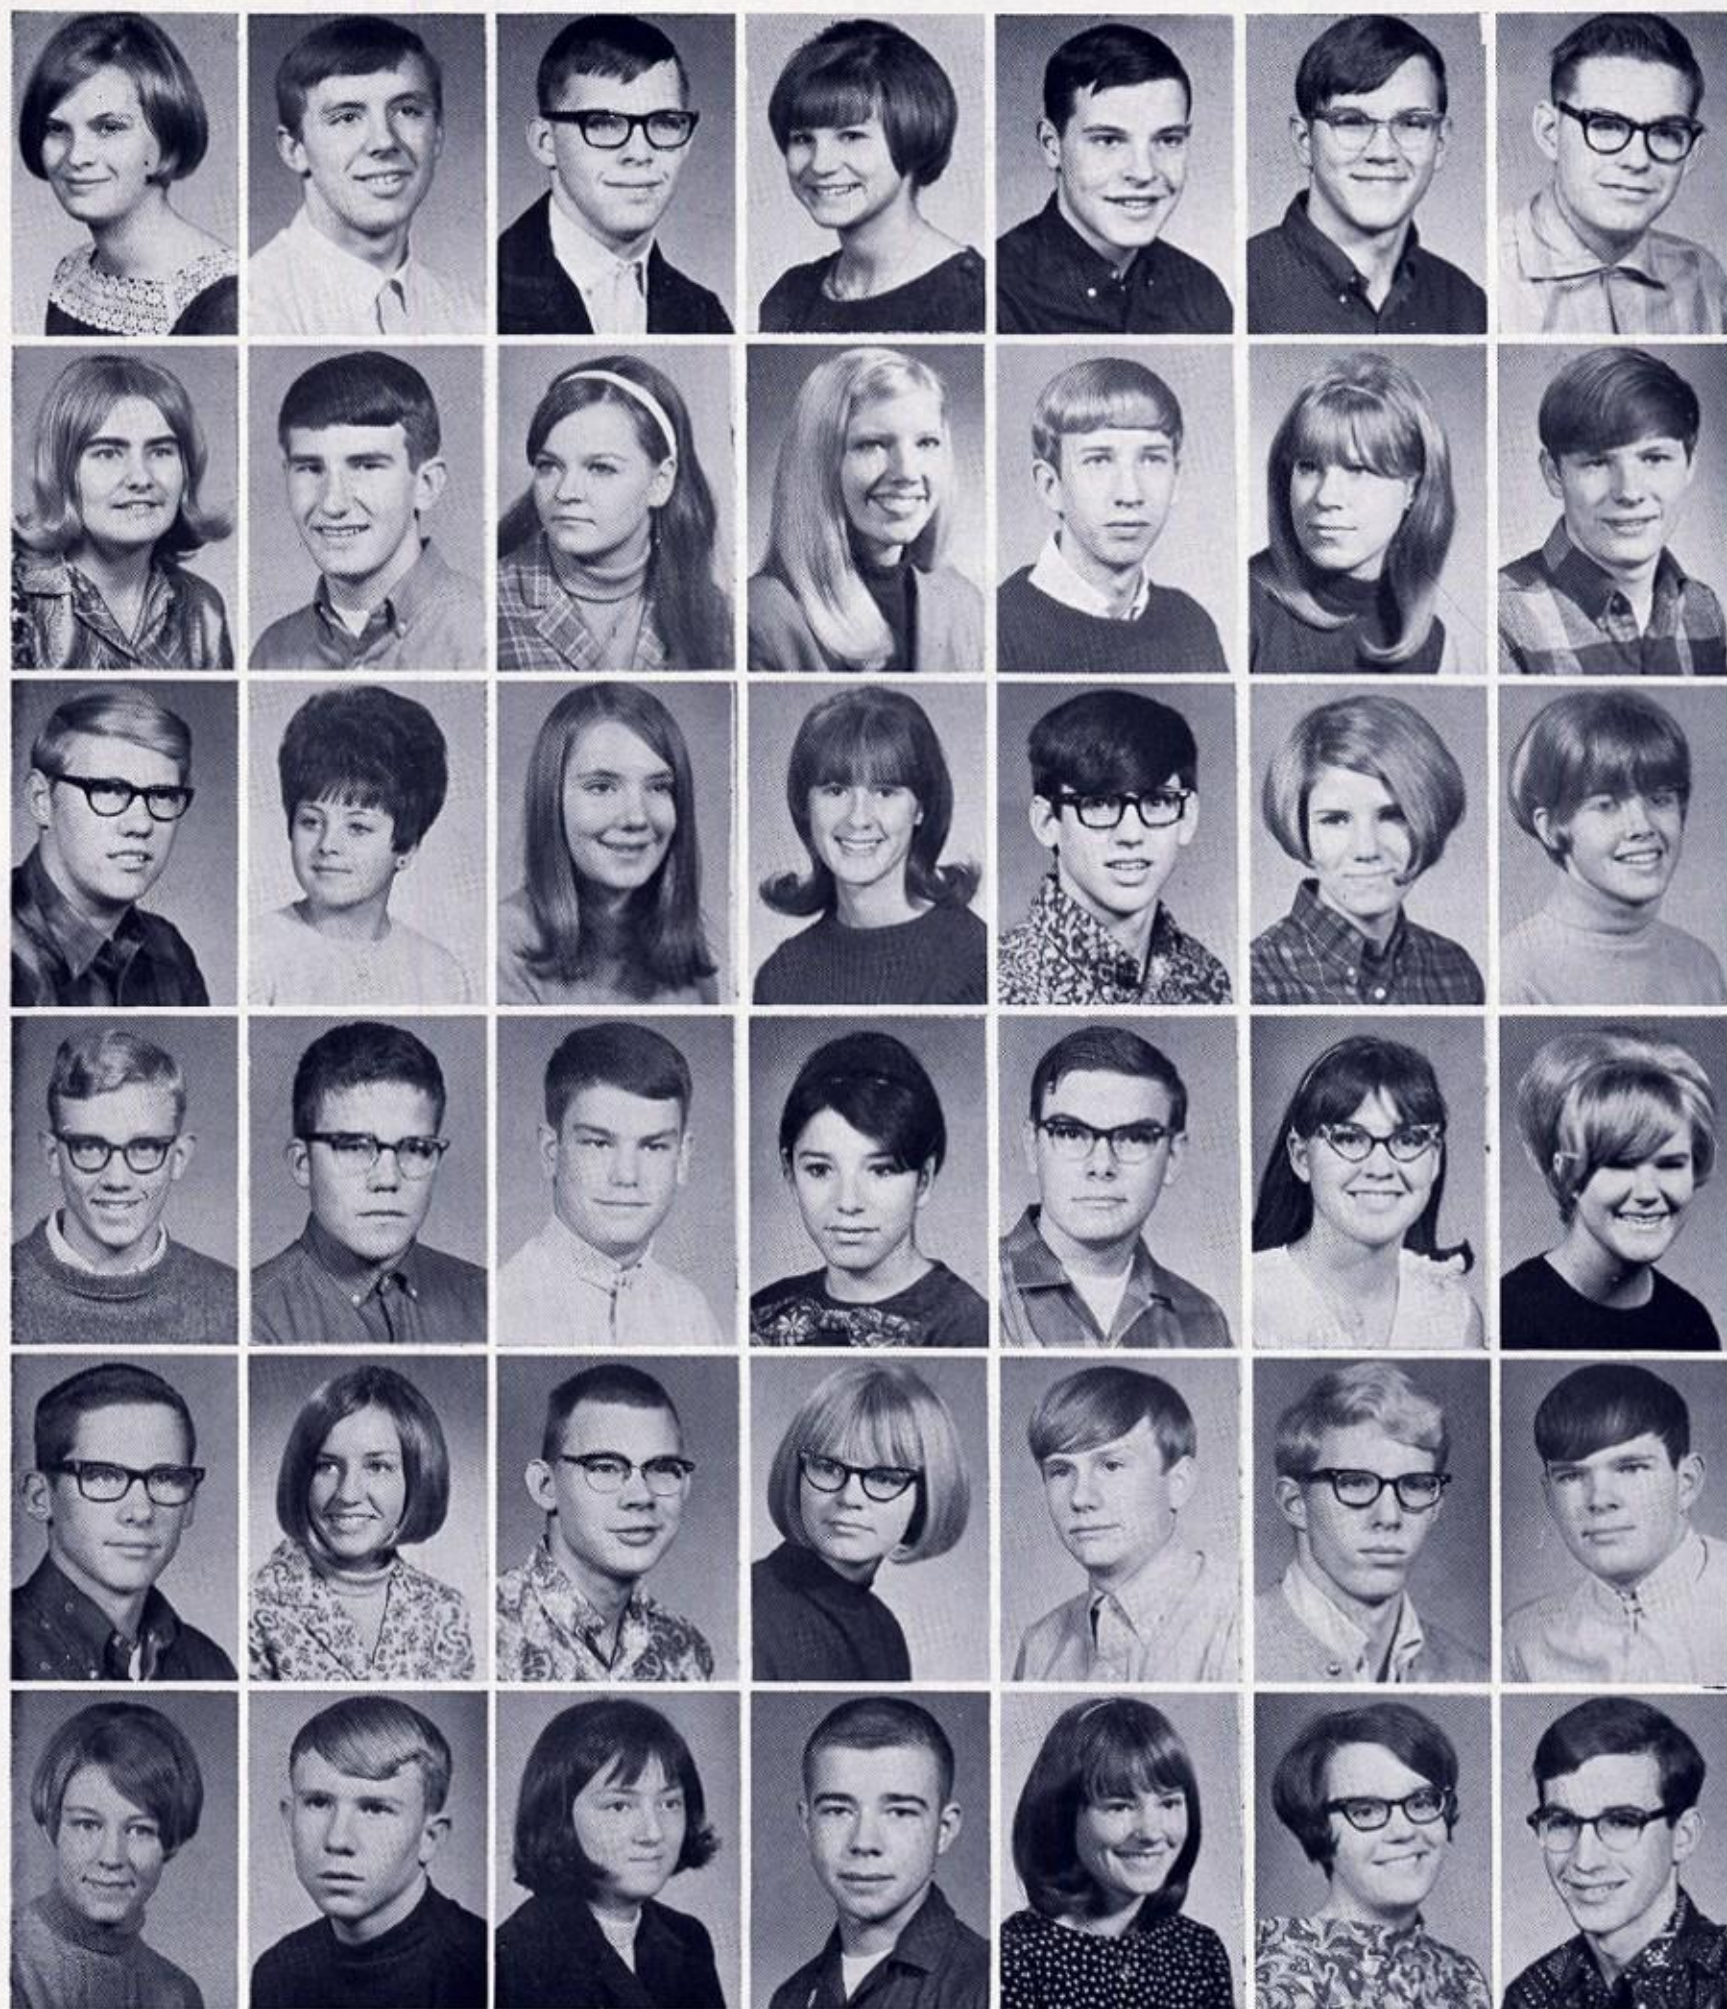

Athletic ability was shown by Keith Kovick, Steve Harper, Barry Mortensen, and Bill Hedge, who gained valuable experience and set a fine record on the varsity basketball team this year. Juniors Kim Childs, Ken Thompson, Steve Settle, and Peggy Hollow represented Helena at the Junior National ski championships. The class led the school in participation in track, setting several new records which show promise of a great team next year.

Three junior girls have been chosen to direct the Bengalettes next year. Sandy Montelius earned the position of Head Majorette. She will be assisted by Dianne Murfitt and Shannon Ashcraft, who will serve as co-heads.

The junior girls elected to send Diane Beckstrom, Marcia Delano, Karen Leaphart, and Vicky Rose to represent Helena High at Girls State this summer. Coleen Mahan, Sheila Fowler, Ronna Liedle, and Peggy Hollow were chosen as alternates.

Boys State delegates for 1968 include Jim Barfknecht, Bill Hedge, Brook Longmaid, Steve Harper, Jim Valentine, Dan Lieberg, Steve Harlen, Scott Hibbard, Whit Hibbard, and Tim Dolan, delegate for East Helena. The junior boys also chose Ken Buchi, Dave Engstrom, Don Hoffman, Tom Morrow, Steve Olson, and Bob Berry as alternates.

Just before Christmas, juniors had the opportunity to run the local Tempo store for a day, receiving a 5 percent commission on all sales. The energetic students took full advantage of the offer and raised several hundred dollars, to make the junior prom the best ever and to cover expenses for the many activities they will have next year as seniors.

The Junior Prom Under Construction

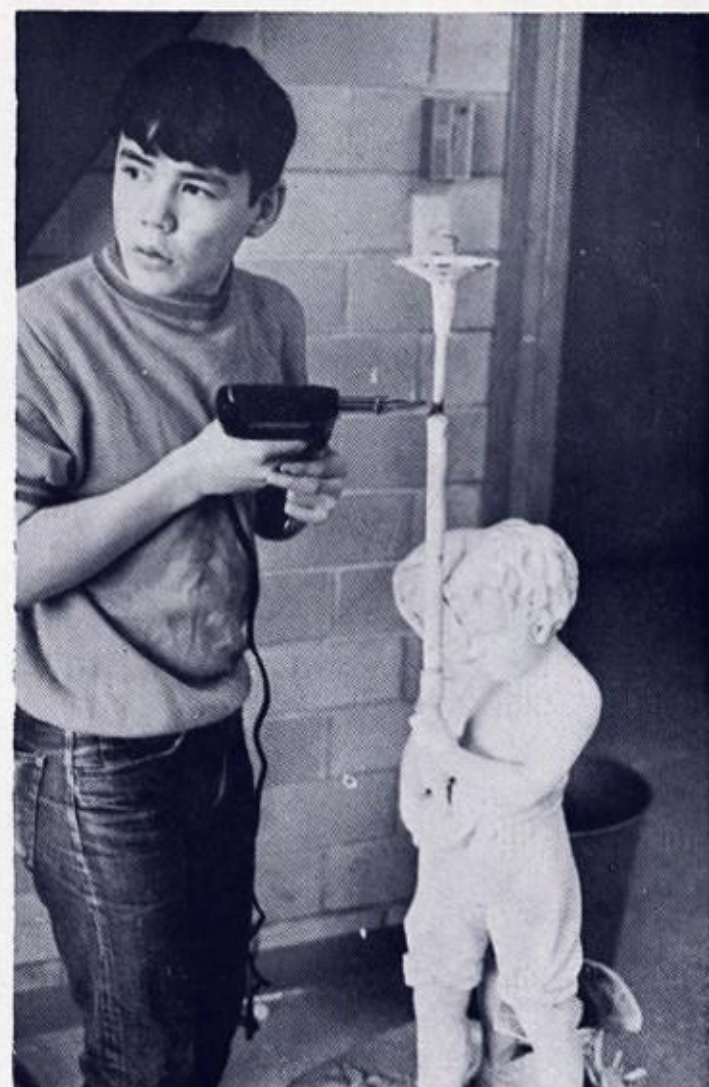

This year's Junior Prom was a great one. In keeping with the theme "Somewhere My Love," the gymnasium was decorated by an enthusiastic class in the colors green and gold. The foyer was lined with paintings and sculpture in modern style and led to a ballroom with a fireplace and a patio with a beautiful skyline mural. A large spherical chandelier hung in the center. The Grand March was led by Queen Vigilante, Sherri Waters, and the night was one remembered by all who attended.

The sophomore class of '70 entered their first year at HHS led by David Dean, president; Jeff Salisbury, vice-president; Randy Doering, secretary; Thel Wong, treasurer; and Jim Chambers, sophomore class representative.

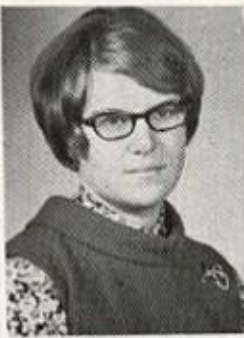

This year the Bengalettes added to its ranks six sophomores: Diane Duffy, Susan Erickson, Tessy Galloway, Janet Glenn, Vicky Linton, and Karen Shepherd. Fay Pearson was the first sophomore Princess Vigilante to be crowned in three years. The other pretty sophomore candidate was Jennifer Radley.

The varsity basketball team made Dave Pillatzke, a 6-4 sophomore, their starting center this year. This great rebounder contributed greatly to the team.

Despite the fact that the sophomores only succeeded in winning the jug twice at the pep assemblies, they really exhibited school spirit at the games. They are all anticipating their junior year with more zeal than ever.

Rotarians Honored at Luncheon

Nine senior boys were chosen this year to join the Rotarians, a Helena service club.

During his month each boy attended the Rotary luncheon meetings held at the Placer Hotel every Wednesday. The boys got an opportunity to view the adult world and exchange ideas with the Helena businessmen. The men also benefitted by learning how high school boys view situations.

Rotarians learned about the adult society and what their future part in the community would be.

This year five senior girls were honored with the opportunity of being guests of the Helena Soroptimist Club. The Soroptimist Club, comprised of Helena businesswomen with executive jobs, sponsors such projects as the monthly Soropti-misses and a $500 dollar scholarship for an HHS girl. The Soropti-misses were chosen by Miss Megard and Mr. Voiles to represent a club or activity. Each girl attended three Thursday meetings at the Montana Club. At one of her meetings she gave a short talk on her club. HHS represented each school month except January, when there was no Soropti-miss, and April and May when Helena Central girls were guests.

Four Helena Girls Attend Girls State

Along with the first few weeks of summer vacation came the long-awaited week of Girls State, a new experience for Helena delegates Debbie Feller, Eileen Ames, Julie Cougill, and Pam Olson. 293 girls, making new friends and organizing fast-moving political campaigns, set the Bozeman campus into action that failed to slacken pace throughout the week. Bright-colored posters, party caucuses, and the organization of legislatures, along with delicious meals, talent shows, the warmth of firesides and quiet convocations, and the excitement of election returns, all ended with the final night of graduation, leaving only memories of the laughter and tears of an unforgettable week.

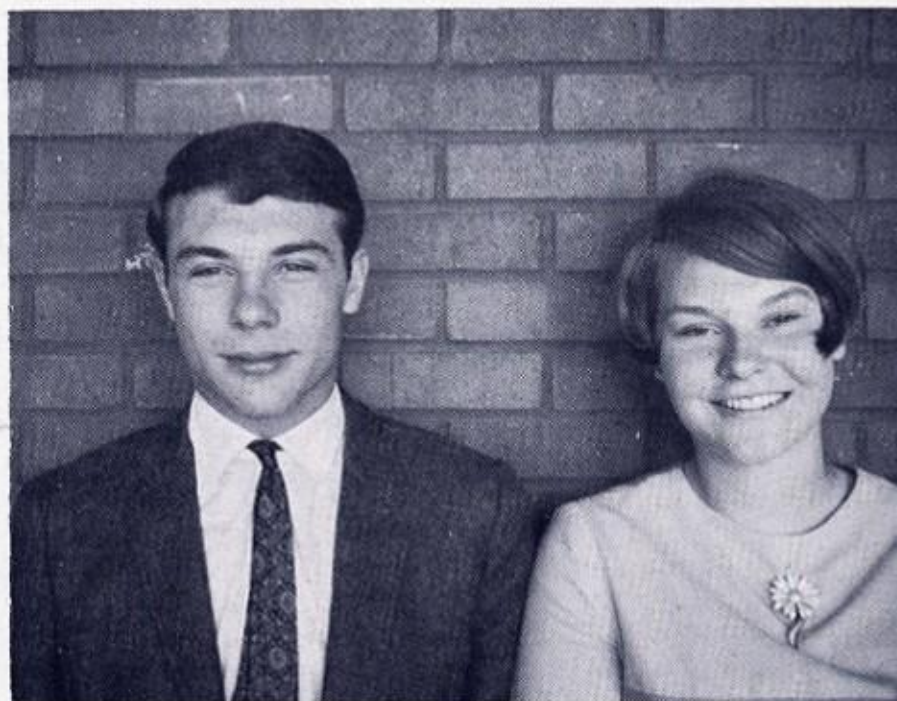

Huppe and Sims Elected to State Offices at Boys State

Upon arrival at the Western Montana College campus, about 500 boys from all over the state found their rooms and prepared for an exciting and informative week of politics. Each delegate was assigned to either the Frontier party or the Pioneer party and to his own town in Montana Boys' State. He also had the opportunity to run for city or county office. Party rallies were held and candidates were chosen by their parties. Helena boys elected to office were Bob Huppe, lieutenant governor, and Jim Sims, attorney general. Nick Cladis was nominated by his party for governor, but he missed being elected by a narrow margin. Climax of the week was the Governor's Ball, with Montana Girls State Governor, Cathe Clapp, as special guest.

The senior girls voted Linnea Anderson, Patsy Wegner and Debbie Feller as the girls who most exemplified the qualities of leadership, patriotism, dependability, and service. The faculty then chose Patsy Wegner as the winner of the annual Daughters of the American Revolution Contest.

Ten Per Cent of Senior Class Named to Honor Society

Forty-six students, representing ten percent of the senior class, were awarded membership in National Honor Society on November 30, 1967. They were chosen by a faculty vote for their qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. Monsignor Brown, of Carroll College, spoke at the assembly during which new members were named.

At the first meeting, Steve Czehura was elected president, Grant Bourquin, vice-president; and Jerry Lindstrom, secretary-treasurer.

Another five percent of the senior class was named to the Society in the spring.

Norwegian Girl Enjoys Stay in Helena

"I don't like pizza, but I like the sports very much—the football and basketball. I like the kids here, I really do. They are much more friendly and outgoing. I am so glad that I came to Helena." These were Guri Paulsen's impressions after spending a year at HHS as a Norwegian exchange student.

Guri was here under an exchange program sponsored by the principal of Great Falls Senior High and the principal of Guri's high school in Norway. Guri stayed part of the year with Janelle Fallan's family, who had heard of the program and decided it would be nice to have a girl from Norway live with them. Janelle and her two little sisters, Holly and Jorrun, became like sisters to Guri during her stay. For the last half of the year, Guri lived with Debra Feller's family.

Guri lives in Sandefjord, a city of 32,000, which recently became the sixth largest in Norway when two smaller towns combined. Her father works for the Norwegian Seamen's Mission, and she has two younger brothers, Tom-Inge and Petter.

Why did Guri want to come to the United States? "To learn the language, meet more, different people, get a wider point of view. I like it here very much. I didn't think it would get so cold here, though! It doesn't get as cold in Norway as it does here."

Guri joined German Club, G.A.A., Philharmonics, and Girls' H-Club. Her outstanding work on the cross country ski team even earned for her an honorary membership in Boys' H-Club.

Student Council Works With School Spirit

Participation, enthusiasm, and new school spirit are key words that sum up the workings of the 1968 Student Council. One of their many projects was the planning of a moveable-type activity sign to be placed on the corner of Montana Ave. and Billings St. next year. Other projects were the acquisition of a new school flag and the successful Citizenship Banquet, held to rededicate the HHS Freedom Shrine.

The annual Student Council candy sale was a success this year, according to Mr. De Kam. The school treasury gained approximately $900.00

Student Body Officers

The student body officer election of '67 was a spirited one. Those who ran for office were required to have a minimum of 145 signatures on their petitions. Once petitions were in order, candidates threw their hats into the political ring. Soon, posters were hung on the walls, and students campaigned vigorously for their favorite candidates. The high point of the week came on May 3, when an election assembly was held, and managers presented qualification speeches for their candidates.

Elected officers had the job of heading meetings of the Student Council and the Executive Board. They were Nick Cladis, president; Jim Sims, vice-president; Mimi Doering, secretary, and Dan Dietzen, treasurer.

Executive Board

The Executive Board, made up of the four student body officers and three elected class representatives, approves the actions of the Student Council meetings. Members of the Executive Board made a project of Shodair Children's Hospital, buying Christmas toys and donating money. Following tradition, the Board members decorated a sparkling silver Christmas tree for the school foyer.

ACTIVITIES

Ultra-realism won first place for junior boys in the Historical Division.

Vigilante Parade Postponed Because of Snow

Fun-time in Helena comes during early May with the Vigilante Parade. This joyous event can be marred by only one thing—snow—which was heavy enough in 1967 to postpone the parade from April 28 to May 1.

Helena High students struggled through, determined not to have anything spoiled by the snow. The mood was set when they were allowed to wear western clothes for one beautiful week, with the added attraction of a day out of school to finish building floats plus two days for the parade.

The evening of parade day was set aside for the Vigilante dance, when prizes were given to the best floats in categories ranging from historical to humorous.

Sophomores brought the parade up to date with their version of Bengal Spirit.

"Logging Around Helena" was judged the most authentic float in the parade.

The "Fort McKenzie" float is an example of what imagination and hard work can do for a flat-bed truck.

Sweepstakes—The highest honor of the parade—was awarded twelve seniors for their float, "Yellowstone Lines."

Ushering was the predominant activity in the busy schedule of this year's 3-7-77's. The service club members acted as ushers at all the home football games, and at coronation, Career Night, and College Night. In September, they conducted guided tours of HHS for all sophomores.

The club also sponsored two dances to raise funds for the Gus Leger Memorial Fund.

Membership of the honorary service organization is limited to 21 (3 times 7) students. New members are selected each May to replace graduating seniors.

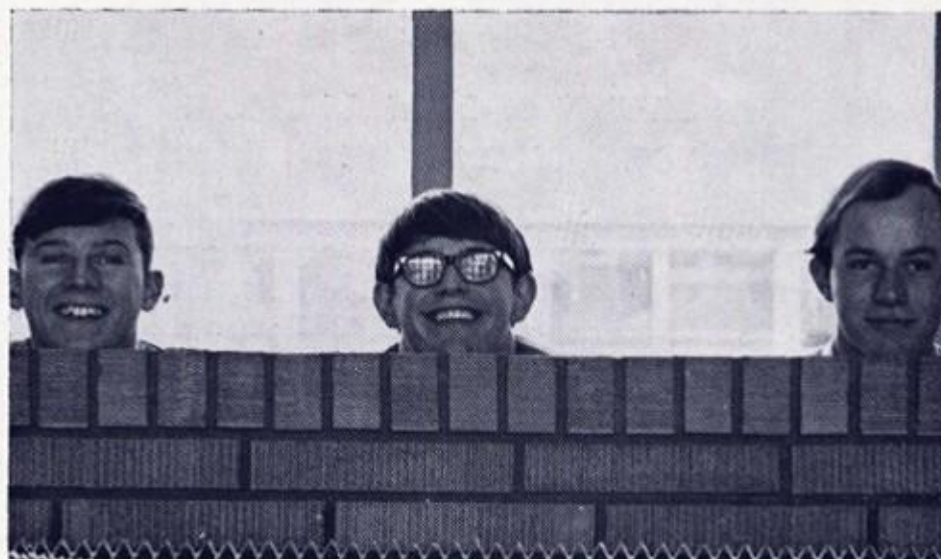

Mrs. Alice Schmidt and Mr. Andrew Anala are club sponsors. Officers for 1968 were Bob Huppe, president; Steve Harper, vice-president; Barb Hurni, secretary-treasurer; and Marcia Johnson, representative for the Gus Leger Memorial Fund.

Barb Hurni was named the official star maker, while decorating for a 3-7-77's dance.

Sharon Christofferson and Tim Morrow were crowned queen and king of the H-Club Dance.

Carrol Dale Speaks at All Sports Banquet

When the HHS football team got new blazers this fall, Boys' H-Club helped cover the expense by selling Bengal license plates. After nearly a month of hard work, the boys had reached their $1,500 quota.

Mr. Charles Stack, former HHS coach, spoke at the fall Sports Luncheon held at Jorgenson's. Later in the spring, the All Sports Banquet featured Carrol Dale, starting end for the Green Bay Packers, as the guest speaker.

Members of Boys' H-Club sold programs and ushered at the home games. They also made the plans for the annual H-Club initiation scheduled for May.

"22, 23, 24 . . . sorry about the pennies," customer tells Jim Barfknecht, who's selling programs for Boys' H-Club.

"WHITE RABBIT" CHOSEN AS THEME FOR H-CLUB DANCE

With crepe paper, black lights, and a little ingenuity, the members of Girls' H-Club transformed the Seventh Avenue Gym into a wonderland for the annual H-Club dance. This year's theme was "White Rabbit."

At an assembly during December, Girls' H-Club members, dressed as Santa's elves, recited their version of "The Night Before Christmas."

Club members also worked at the concession stand during the first football game, helped with cross country meets, and took tickets at the basketball games.

An initiation was held in January for eighteen girls, and a second group was initiated in May. Officers of Girls' H-Club were Delores Pollard, president; Pam Olson, vice-president; Carol Tuck, secretary; Jane Stebbins, treasurer; and Sharon Christofferson, scribe.

GAA SPONSORS GIRLS' TRACK MEET

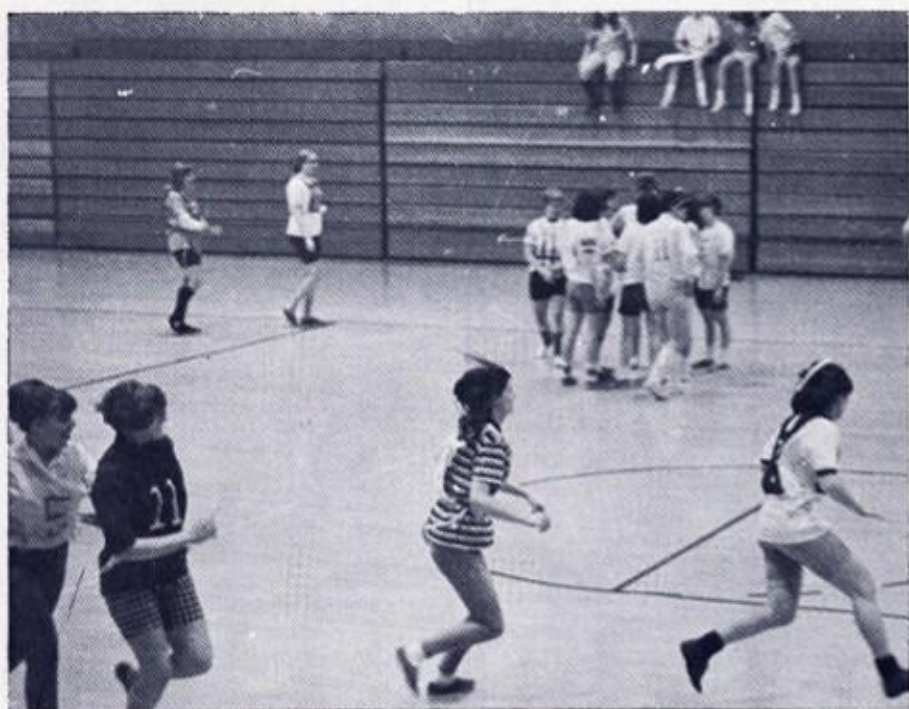

This year, Girls' Athletic Association had a large membership of 294 girls. In September, the junior and senior GAA members initiated sophomores into the group.

More than one hundred girls entered the track meet at the Vigilante Stadium in the fall. Under the guidance of Mrs. Peters and Miss Holmberg, the girls participated and acted as officials in the following team sports: softball, volleyball and basketball. The individual sports included shuffleboard, table tennis, badminton, archery and rifle practice. Each girl received a prescribed amount of points for playing and officiating. These points were used as a basis for membership in Girls' H-Club, an honorary group. GAA points were also given to the girls in the trampoline, tennis, tumbling, gymnastics and ski teams.

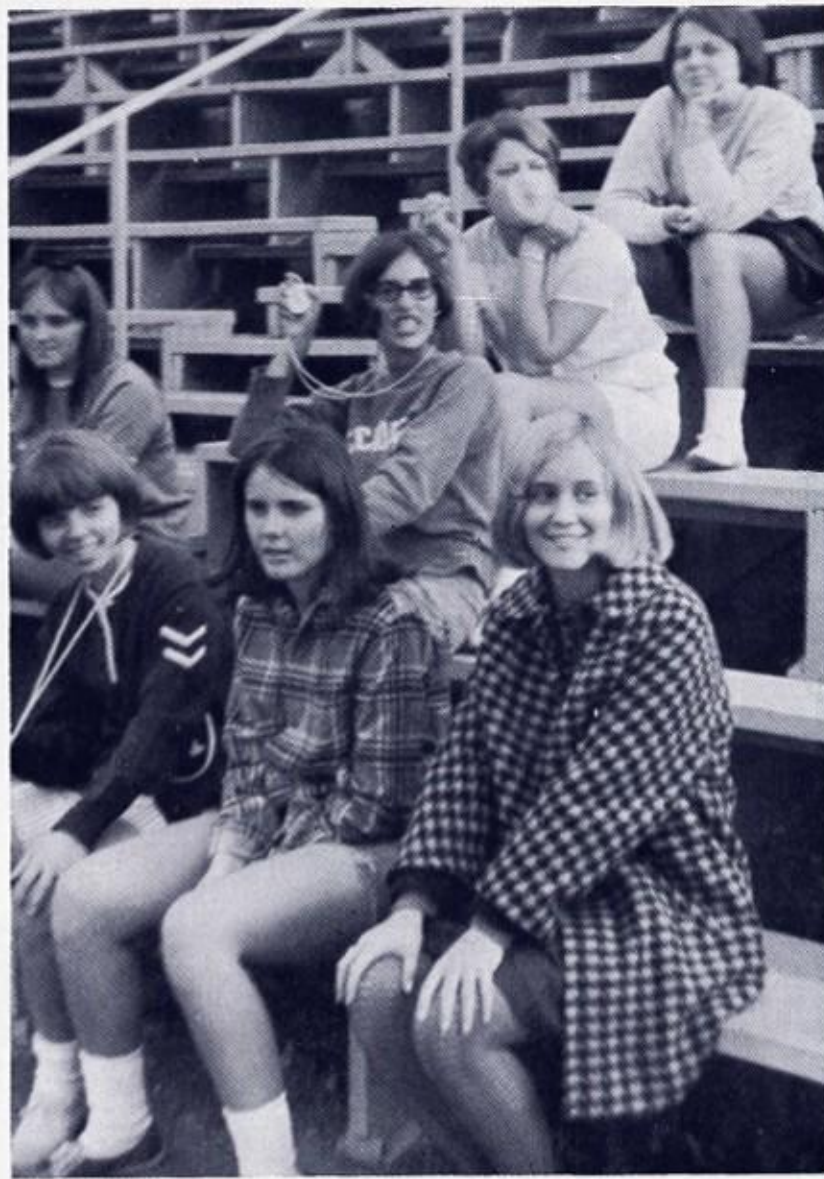

The GAA officers for 1967-68 were Terry Berry, president;; Aleth Brann, secretary; Shirley Juhl, treasurer; and Sharon Christofferson, scribe.

Pep Club Sponsors Two Out-of-Town Bus Trips

The chief objective of this year's Pep Club was to promote school spirit. Before each football and basketball game, Pep Club members decorated the halls with booster signs, which encouraged both school and team spirit. The club sponsored two Bengal bus trips during the football season, one to Great Falls and the other to Butte. Every Monday and Wednesday after school, Pep Club sold doughnuts. The profits from these sales helped to finance various club activities.

The officers include Vicky Rose, president; Jean Pool, vice-president; Shirley Hodgson, treasurer; and Myrna Omholt, secretary.

LATIN CLUB SPONSORS STATE CONVENTION OF JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

Representatives from Missoula, Great Falls, Valier, and Bozeman met with the HHS Latin Club on Saturday, March 30, for the Montana State Convention of the Junior Classical League. Activities for the day included two plays, speeches, and a panel discussion on the importance of learning Latin in high school. Delegates dressed in Latin costume for the Roman banquet in the evening, and finished the eventful day with a dance.

Latin Club officers for the year were Joan Applegate, president; Shirley Grandy, vice-president; Anne Curran, secretary; and Gene Spangrude, treasurer. The informal initiation was held in October at a progressive dinner in the school cafeteria.

French Club's Goal Is to Have Fun

The French Club got off to a good start this year by initiating 60 new members. Once again it had the distinction of being the largest club of HHS.

The goal of French Club was to have fun. To attain this goal, the members held a get-together party, a Halloween party, a Christmas party, and several picnics.

Music Club Sponsors Benefit Dance

September 1967 marked the beginning of a new club in HHS, the Music Club, organized by Mr. Ray Champlin, chorus director. The members included any interested students who had lettered in some musical field, or who had played in a specified number of concerts.

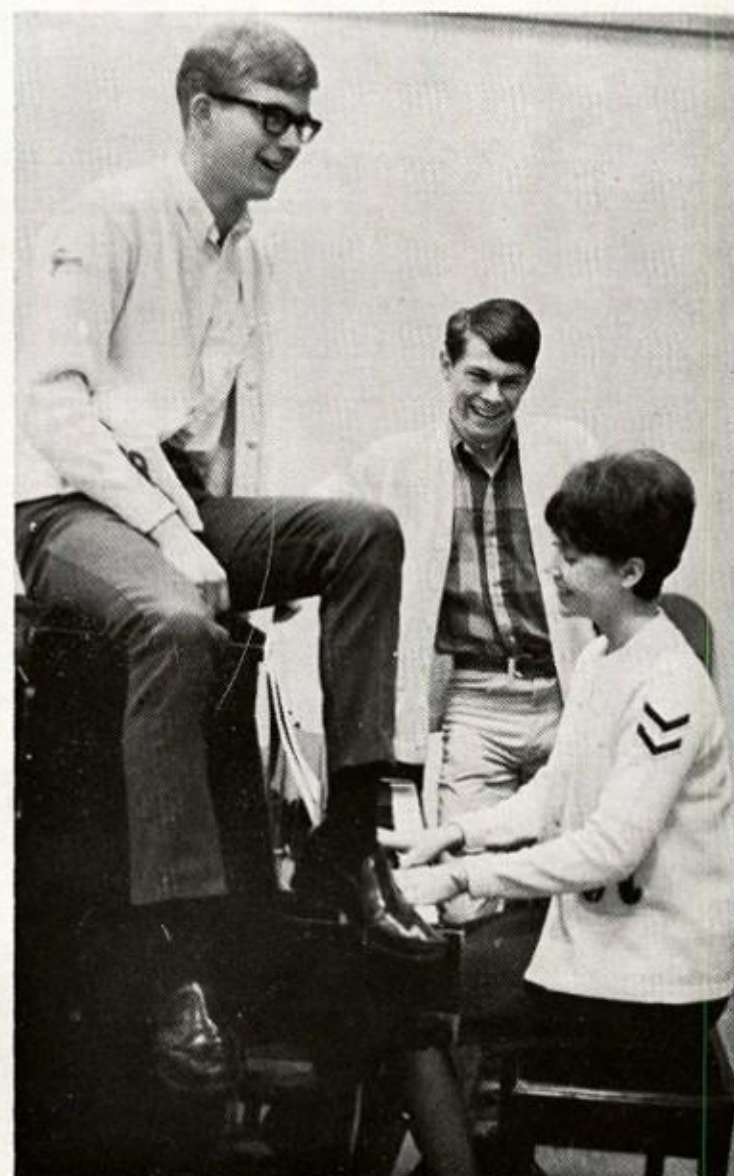

The first order of business was that of drawing up a constitution. During the Christmas season, the group got together for a hayride. They also sponsored a benefit dance for Mr. Gene Brown, a junior high music teacher, who had been stricken with a serious illness.

Jim Vashro was elected as the club's first president, while Mike Knight became vice-president and Chris Yerby was secretary-treasurer.

Spanish Club Adopts Official Sweatshirt

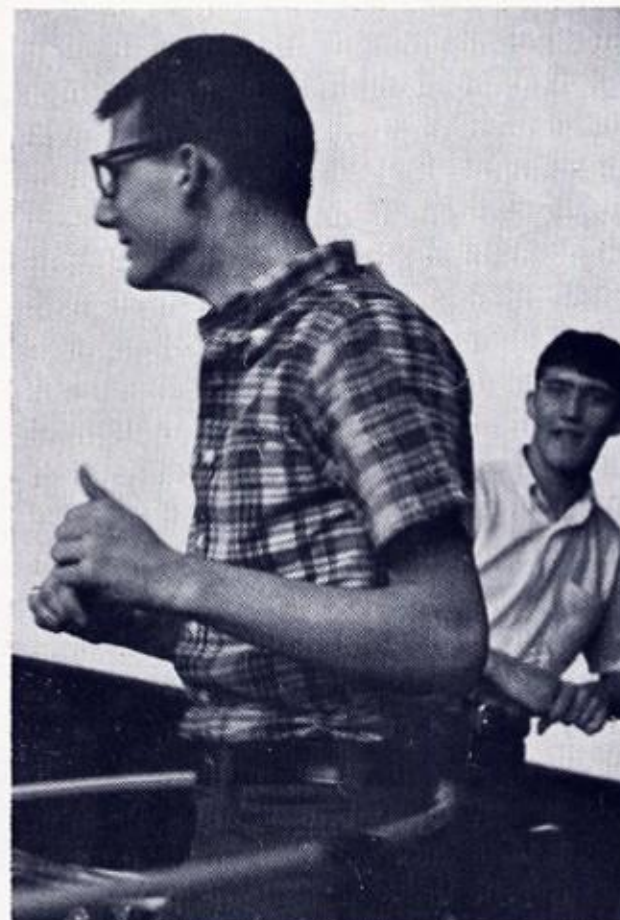

By designing a gold conquistador emblem for a blue sweatshirt, Gary Parry made Spanish Club the only organization in HHS with an official sweatshirt. Pins were also available for any members who wanted them.

An informal fall initiation was held in the cafeteria for new members. Later on, the Spanish Club joined forces with the French Club to sponsor a Christmas party at the Pizza House.

Films concerning Spanish and South American cultures were shown throughout the year. One film provided an excellent review of Don Quixote.

Club activities concluded with a picnic in May.

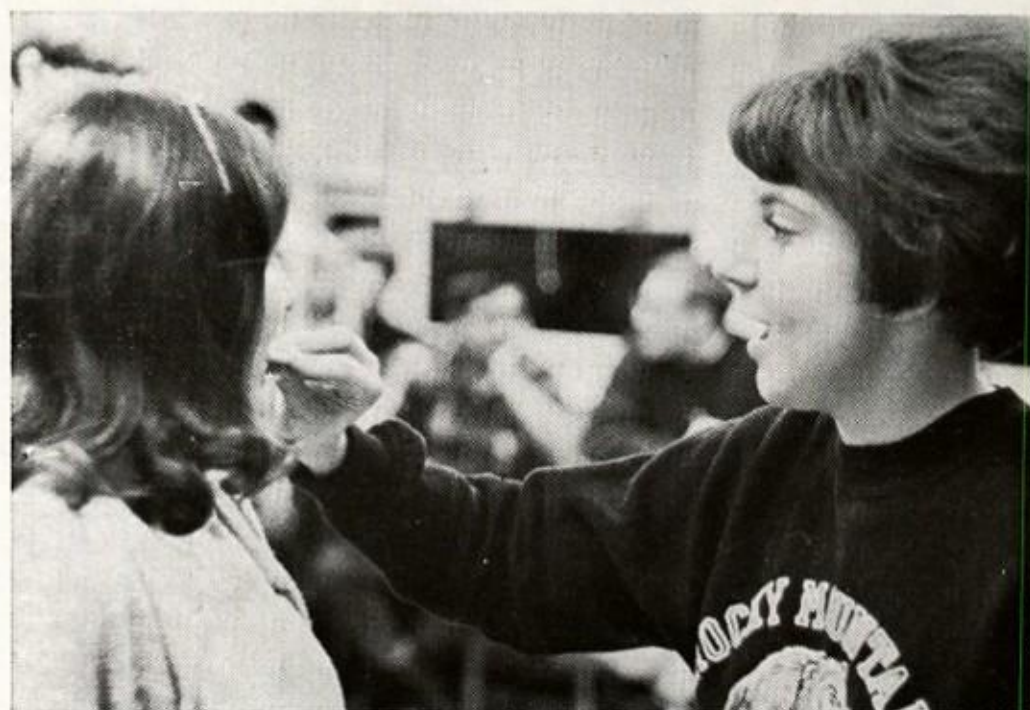

1968 Spanish Club officers were Julie Cougill, president; Sue Sparing, vice-president; Marcia Johnson, secretary; and Luanne Matiskainen, treasurer.

RUSSIAN CLUB HOLDS VARIOUS ACTIVITIES

Any student taking a course in Russian qualifies as a member of the Russian Club. This year's major club activities included two parties. During Christmas, the club held a pizza party at Mark Radley's house. Bill Dion, the guest speaker, gave an informal speech about his travels in the Soviet Union. Fifty students attended a swimming party at Boulder scheduled for May 6.

The Russian Club officers for 1967 are Pam Smith, president; Ron Drake, vice-president; Dianne McGee, secretary; Doug Jones, treasurer; and Marilyn Eckberg, historian.

GERMAN CLUB MEMBERS DECORATE STEINS

"... and be sure to bring a paint brush to the next meeting!" This was German Club President Marion Francke's order to all German Club members. As a special project, each student bought and decorated a stein.

An informal initiation for new members was held in the school cafeteria in the fall. At the Christmas party in room 4, the group trimmed a tree and then feasted on cookies and cake. The annual picnic was held in May.

German Club officers for 1968 were Marion Francke, president; Craig Moore, vice-president; Guri Paulsen, secretary; Marcia Johnson, treasurer; and Karen Leaphart, historian. Mr. George Zowada was sponsor for the group.

Art Club went psychedelic for a Valentine's Day party in the art room. Decorations featured black light, posters made with florescent paint, and valentines made by Art Club members. In spite of the modern theme, the prize for the best valentine went to Connie Rummel for her old-fashioned heart decorated with hand-cut paper lace. The "Sons and Doters," a folk-singing group made up of HHS students, provided entertainment. An Art Club member described the affair as "a sort of 'do your thing' party; the singers sang when they felt like singing and we ate when we felt like eating; it was a good party."

Many Art Club members discovered that art can be profitable as well as personally satisfying, when they entered the Kiwanis Club Show, with the prospect of selling some of their works.

Art Club officers were Delores Pollard, president; Cathy Chugg, vice-president; Karen Shepherd, secretary; Kathy McHugh, treasurer; Sara Sather, historian; and Connie Rummel, publicity officer. Mr. Larry Hayes sponsored the group.

Photography Club Reactivated

Students interested in photography had an opportunity to develop their skills when Mr. Ray Champlin reactivated one of Helena High's oldest clubs. The Photography Club's purpose was to serve as an educational experience for its members and to act as a service organization.

Meetings were held on Tuesdays after school, in the chorus room. After hearing a lecture on photography methods, students often went on to work with negatives in the dark room at the Vocational Technical School. Next year, they hope to begin working with color photography.

Throughout the year, members of the Photography Club took pictures for both The Vigilante and The Nugget.

Nineteen Qualify for Quill and Scroll

Nineteen students became members of Quill and Scroll, the International Honor Society for high school journalists. In order to be eligible, students must have published 60 column inches of copy in the Nugget, or they must have been editor, assistant editor, or business manager of the Vigilante or the Nugget.

The major project undertaken by the club is the annual publication of Pannings, a booklet made up of outstanding prose and poetry written by HHS students.

Student Librarians Have Varied Duties

"Student librarians are a vital part of the school library," Principal Homer Loucks has stated. The duties of the HHS student librarians include selling paperbacks and bookcovers, checking books and magazines in and out, and maintaining the appearance of the library.

Under the direction of Mrs. Matross and Miss Lundborg, a library club was organized in the fall. Meetings were held in the school library, where after refreshments, the girls learned the proper techniques for mending and shelving books.

During the first semester the officers were Ellen Harrell, president; Gail Halverson, vice-president; and Kathy Barnes, secretary. The officers for second semester were Vicki Glass, president, and Sharon Holmes, vice-president.

Many Girls Proud Members of the Rifle Club

All students who were interested in shooting qualified for membership in the Rifle Club. Under the guidance of Mr. Don Byrd, meetings were held each Wednesday evening from 6:30 to 9:00 at the National Guard Armory. Medals, ranging from "pro- marksman" to "distinguished rifleman," were offered to members for their improvement in skill with a rifle. Girls also received GAA points for attending the meetings.

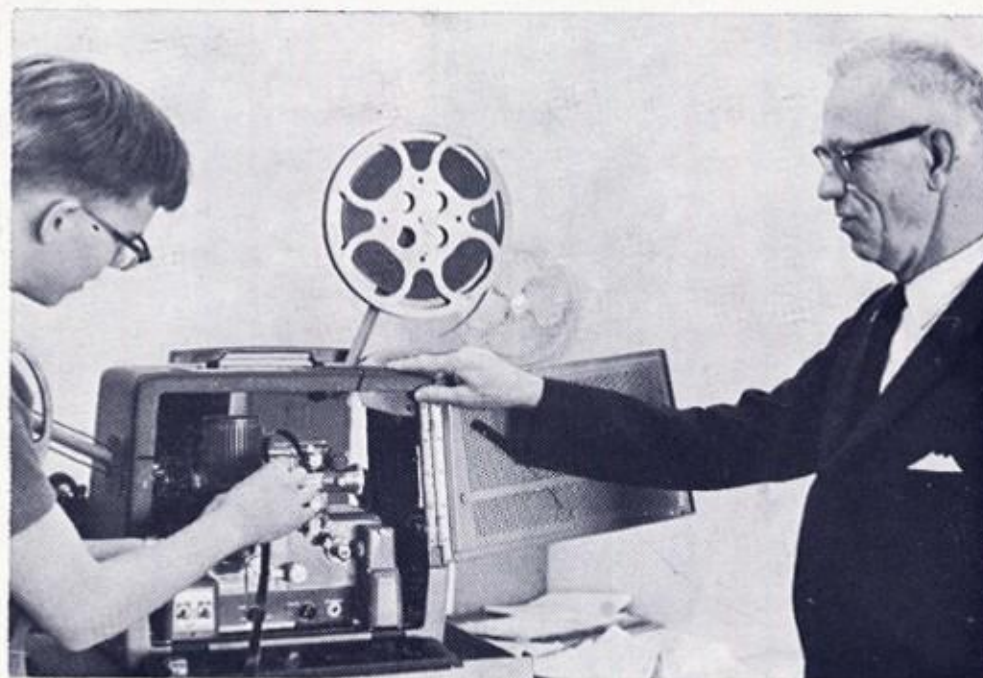

Avalanche Gulch was chosen as the site for the May 25 picnic.

This year's Rifle Club officers were Dave Sperry, president; and Ken Sheppard, vice-president.

150 Receive Projectionist Certificates

No organization serves HHS more often than the projectionists. While some clubs meet once a week, a projectionist may show as many as three films in one day.

This year's 150 projectionists received their training from Mr. Markin during study hall periods. After two or three training sessions, a test was given, and if the student qualified, he was given a projectionist's certificate.

"Mr. Markin, where does this film go now?" asks projectionist, Greg Breed.

Members of the Forensics wish Ken Baird good luck, as he leaves for Washington, D.C., to compete in the Voice of Democracy Contest.

FORENSICS LEAGUE MAKES GOOD SHOWING AT SPEECH MEETS

The trophy case of HHS had some new additions after the efforts of this year's Forensics League. With Mr. Jon Whitwer as coach, the League consistently made excellent showings. Both Tim Stetzner and Ken Baird captured first place at the Divisional Speech Meet held March 22 and 23 in Great Falls. Thirteen of the eighteen students who competed in that meet qualified for the State Meet in Missoula, April 5 and 6. There, Tim Stetzner again won a first place trophy in dramatic declamation.

League officers were Linda Downs, president; Tim Stetzner, vice-president; Ken Baird, secretary; Candy Brown, treasurer; Mike Holmes, publicity chairman; and Don Maynard, sergeant-at-arms.

TIM STETZNER TO ATTEND NATIONAL THESPIAN CONVENTION

Due to the efforts of the Thespian Troupe 745, Tim Stetzner will be able to attend the National Thespian Convention in Indianapolis next fall. By charging admission to the movie, Cyrano de Bergerac, and the play, The Hasty Heart, they raised the necessary funds.

On March 13, in the Little Theater, the Thespians held their informal initiation. Later that evening they enjoyed a banquet at the Montana Club. Another initiation is scheduled for May.

June 3 is the date for their swimming party at Boulder Hot Springs.

FHA District Convention Held in Helena

"Wake the town and tell the people" was only one of three project themes adopted by this year's ambitious FHA chapter. The aim of these projects was the involvement of the FHAers, not only in school activities, but also in activities of the community. Patsy Wegner launched the first of a series of FHA projects on November 18 in Helena, when she presided at the annual FHA District Convention.

A month later, FHA sponsored a Christmas party for some welfare children. Gloria Wong, club secretary, reported that it was a experience neither the children nor the FHAers would soon forget.

On February 14 the club held its annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, and later that same month the girls gave a Valentine's Day party at the Masonic Home.

This year's FHA projects ended with the State Convention held in Missoula, March 22 and 23.

FTA is an "Action" club

The Future Teachers of America has a reputation as an action club, and they lived up to it this year. Among other activities, they sold holly during Christmas season, to help finance their scholarship program.

The evening meetings of the FTA were always interesting. One program, for example, included a movie dealing with new teaching methods, "Make a Mighty Reach." Following the movie, several HHS teachers held a panel discussion.

At the April banquet, service awards were announced. Barbara Hunter was awarded the annual Honor Scholarship, given jointly by FTA and the Helena Education Association.

FTA officers were Walter Joyce, president; Dorothy Filson, vice-president; Diana McGee, treasurer; Marion Francke, vice-secretary and treasurer; Connie Davis, historian; and Chris Yerby, parliamentarian.

Forum members discuss teenage morality.

Whether the latest issue concerned politics or the "new morality," members of The Forum, a new HHS discussion group, debated the question. The group consisted of fourteen seniors and ten juniors, and it met once a month in room 17. Other issues discussed included the question of admitting Red China into the United Nations and the pros and cons of gun legislation.

Planning meetings was the primary duty of the board of directors, Alex Colvin, Doug Jones, Lynn Phillips, and Bob Huppe. Mr. Roy DeLong was club sponsor.

Junior Great Books club organized

Mrs. Crennen and Mrs. Flanagan lead a Great Books discussion on Huckleberry Finn.

Alcestis, The Open Boat, and The Overcoat numbered among the books, short stories, and plays discussed by the Junior Great Books Club, a new group organized by Mrs. Margaret Crennen and Mrs. Fern Flanagan. The purpose of the organization was to give high school students an opportunity to read and to discuss informally some of the literature that has shaped present-day civilization.

Meetings were held once a month during seventh period in the library conference room. Members were Ka Wai Lui, Louis Miles, Marcia Delano, Grant Bourquin, Linda Hayes, and Jim Schwind.

STUDENTS WORK BEHIND THE SCENES

The office staff is a group of hard working students receiving little credit for the many jobs they do. Aside from running errands, posting attendance records, and stuffing mail boxes, they use their talents at typing, dictation, and other clerical work. They work in the office for a semester or a full year, lending a hand whenever they are needed.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS SELL TICKETS

Seventeen volunteers from various English classes took turns selling tickets for all home basketball games and for the Class C Tournament. These students went on duty in the ticket booths at 5:45 and stayed until after half-time, when they began checking to make sure that the money taken in balanced with the number of tickets sold.

Ticket sellers were David Woodgerd, Cathy Carpenter, Joan Deyerle, Lynette Burns, Edith Agostinelli, Greg Poore, Joan Applegate, Marie Berg, Rick Johnson, Libby Koetter, Steve Phelps, Jerry Kjos, Lila Crider, Marcia Scruton, Kittie O'Leary, Mona Cuchine, and Mickii Smith.

PERFORMING ARTS

Pep Band holds a spirited practice session.

Band Is One of School's Most Active Groups

Early September found the HHS band hard at work in Vigilante Field. Their goal: to learn and relearn marching fundamentals for the football season's half-time entertainment. With Mr. Harry Hardy as director, Vicki Kropp, the drum majorette, and Tom Patterson, the drum major, led a spirited band onto the football field. The band joined with the Bengalettes to march at home football games and in the University of Montana Homecoming Parade.

During basketball season, the group provided music for each pep assembly and home basketball game. Band members also attended the Divisional Tournament in Butte, where they performed with the Bengalettes. At the Class C Tournament, they entertained for the last time during basketball season.

On April 19 and 20, the Helena High music department was host to the District Five Music Convention. Musicians from seven cities in Montana attended, and the HHS band received an "excellent" rating.

In spite of their busy schedule, the band presented three concerts: one during Christmas season, another on March 6, and the final one in the spring. The last marching engagement of the year was for the Vigilante Parade.

Officers this year were Vicki Kropp, president; Bob Abel, vice-president; Mike Clow, secretary, and Cathy Dean, treasurer.

In Memoriam

"A guy who would rather go hunting and fishing than attend a symphony is a very narrow person. There are opportunities to do both." This was the philosophy of Richard Starr, director of orchestral music for the Helena schools and conductor of the Helena Symphony and Chorale. He came to Helena from his native Massachusetts because he loved the out-of-doors, but Helena students, from grade school up, knew him also as a teacher who was able to inspire them with some of his own enthusiasm for music—all kinds of music.

"My friends back in Boston," he said one night on a laughter-filled bus, "would never believe that I am taking a bus load of kids one hundred miles, to hear the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra!"

He was returning from an afternoon outdoors on Sunday, May 5, when his automobile plunged over a high embankment into the Missouri River and he was killed.

CHEERLEADERS WIN TROPHY IN BUTTE

"... We're bold and strong as we go on, because the Bengals are the team that's best!" With this chant, the cheerleaders opened the first pep assembly of the school year. As promoters of school spirit, they also painted booster signs for the halls, worked at the track meets, and chartered three buses to Great Falls for a football game. Early in the fall, they sponsored a pop bottle drive to raise money for their new outfits. A perfect ending for a good year came when the cheerleadrs won the first place trophy at the AA Divisional Tournament in Butte.

Cheerleaders for 1968 included two juniors, Lynn Scott and Kathy Danzer. Pam Olson, Debbie Morgan, and Cheer Queen Barb Hurni were the seniors.

Smiling Bengalettes Delight Audiences

During the Class C Tournament, the smiling Bengalettes perform a precision marching routine.

"... and remember to smile," were Head Majorette Mary Wilson's last words of advice to the Bengalettes. And smile they did, while marching in the University of Montana Homecoming Parade, in the Vigilante Parade, and at the Spring Band Concert. Their high-stepping routines and colorful costumes delighted audiences at every home football game and five home basketball games, and at Helena's Class C and Butte's Divisional Tournament. Not only did their performances merit standing ovations at the basketball games, but also they won the first place marching trophy at the Helena Stampede and at the Great Falls Parade.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Marietta Peters, Head Majorette Mary Wilson and Co-majorettes Pam Duggan and Jane Stebbins created and taught the routines to all twenty-four girls. Although first period was reserved for practice sessions, the girls met in the gym at 7:30 a.m. during most of the football and basketball seasons. The end of the school year is not the end of drill sessions for these girls, for practice continues in the evenings throughout the summer.

HHS Students Decorate for Mansfield Dinner

Pipe in hand, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield poses at the formal dinner held in his honor.

Two widely-acclaimed Montanans meet at the dinner. John Misha Petkavitch, member of the United States Olympics Men's Skating Team listens to Senator Mansfield.

A twenty-five-dollar-a-plate dinner is not the ordinary thing for Helena, Montana. But on October 14, 1967, there was a special reason for such an event, when Senator Mike Mansfield was honored with a formal dinner given by the University of Montana. Decorations for the occasion were made by HHS students.

The dinner was held to finance a series of lectures in honor of Senator Mansfield, a graduate and one-time faculty member of the University. The subject of the lectures will be international relations.

Mrs. Doris Marshall, who was chairman of arrangements, made the dinner a success. With the help of Mr. Larry Hayes, the Thespians, and the Art Club, she planned and put up decorations in the Civic Center, where the event was held. Several students, along with Mrs. McCarthy, Miss Megard, and Mrs. Tomcheck, acted as hostesses.

Turnout for the dinner was tremendous. An expensive meal did not deter hundreds of people who supported the lecture series.

VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL

Vo-Tech School Active Since 1910

"One more time and I'll call it quits!" thinks an unidentified welder as he steadies his acetylene torch.

As early as 1910 Helena inaugurated a vocational program in conjunction with the Old Helena High School on Warren Street. The first vocational school was located in a combined city-school-district auditorium at the corner of Warren Street and Seventh Avenue. This building was destroyed by the earthquakes of 1935. In 1931 Helena showed its leadership again by introducing the first course in airplane mechanics. In 1936 the Helena Schools started what was perhaps the first flying cadet program in Montana. In 1939 the State Board of Education designated Helena as an Area Vocational School. The training programs were expanded during World War II. Planning for the Helena Vocational-Technical School began early in 1960, and the new building was completed in 1967.

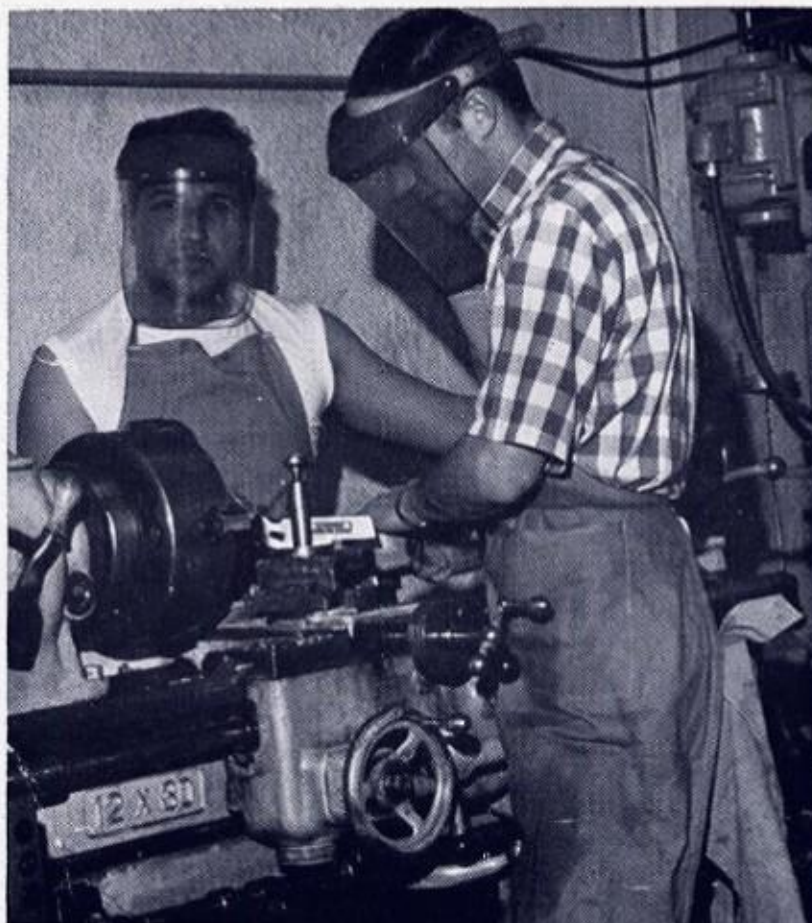

"But," says David Michels, "we can't put that thing in—there would be no room for the tiger!" as he helps Mr. Virostko and Mr. Knox dismantle a car in auto mechanics.

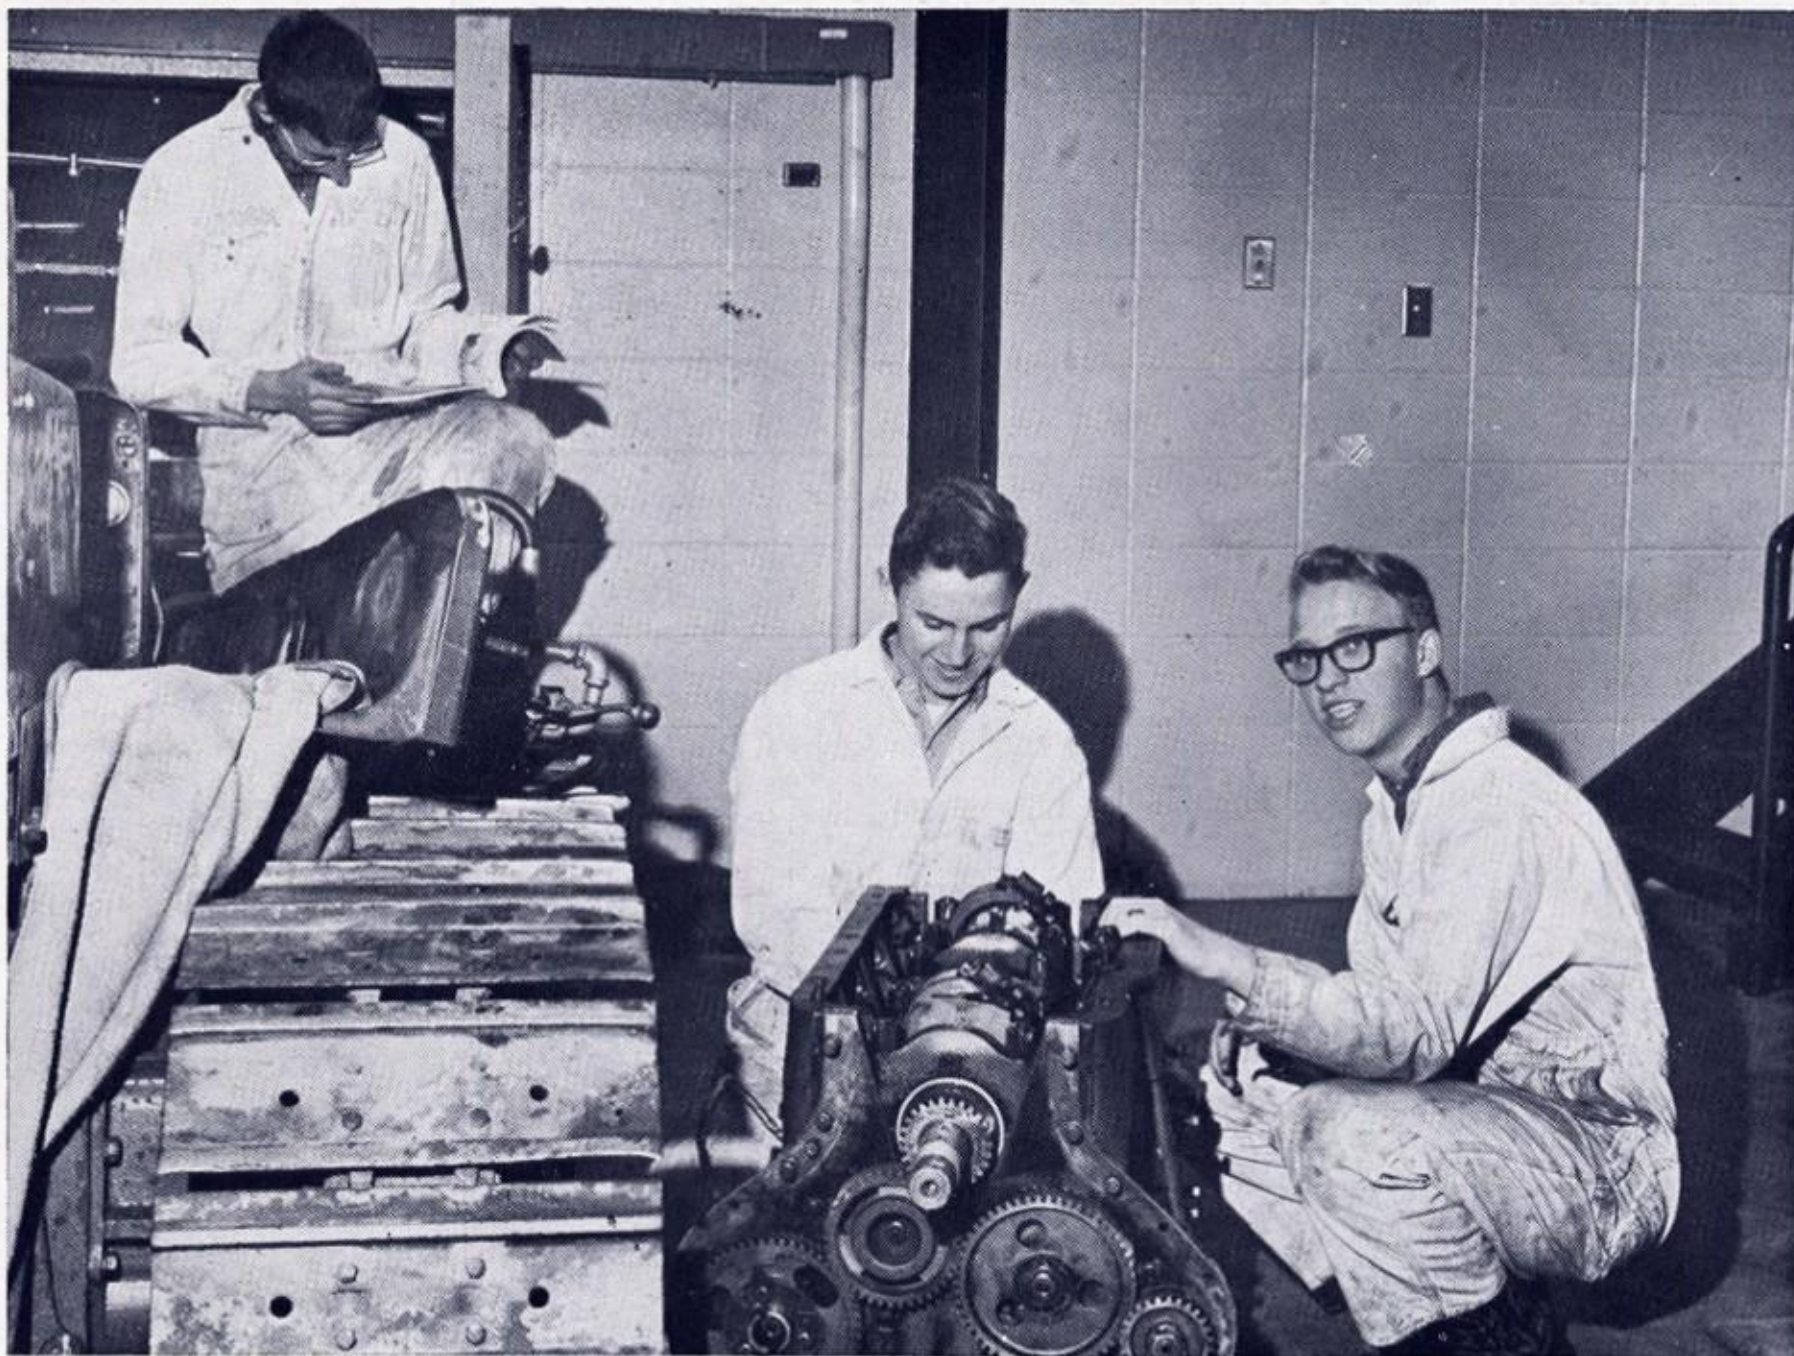

Helena Vocational-Technical School Begins Year in New Building

The Helena Vocational-Technical School, completed in 1967, is the newest addition to the Helena Senior High School System. The building was designed in two parts totaling 55,900 square feet. The eastern part, consisting of the shop areas, is separated from the classroom and administrative area by an open mall and two connecting corridors.

Welding masks don't seem to bother Jesse Gonzales and Nick Heiser as they work over a complicated looking machine.

Chuck Smith gives instructions to John Armstrong and Ralph White: "The manual says if gear A turns clockwise and turns gear B counter-clockwise, gear C . . .?"

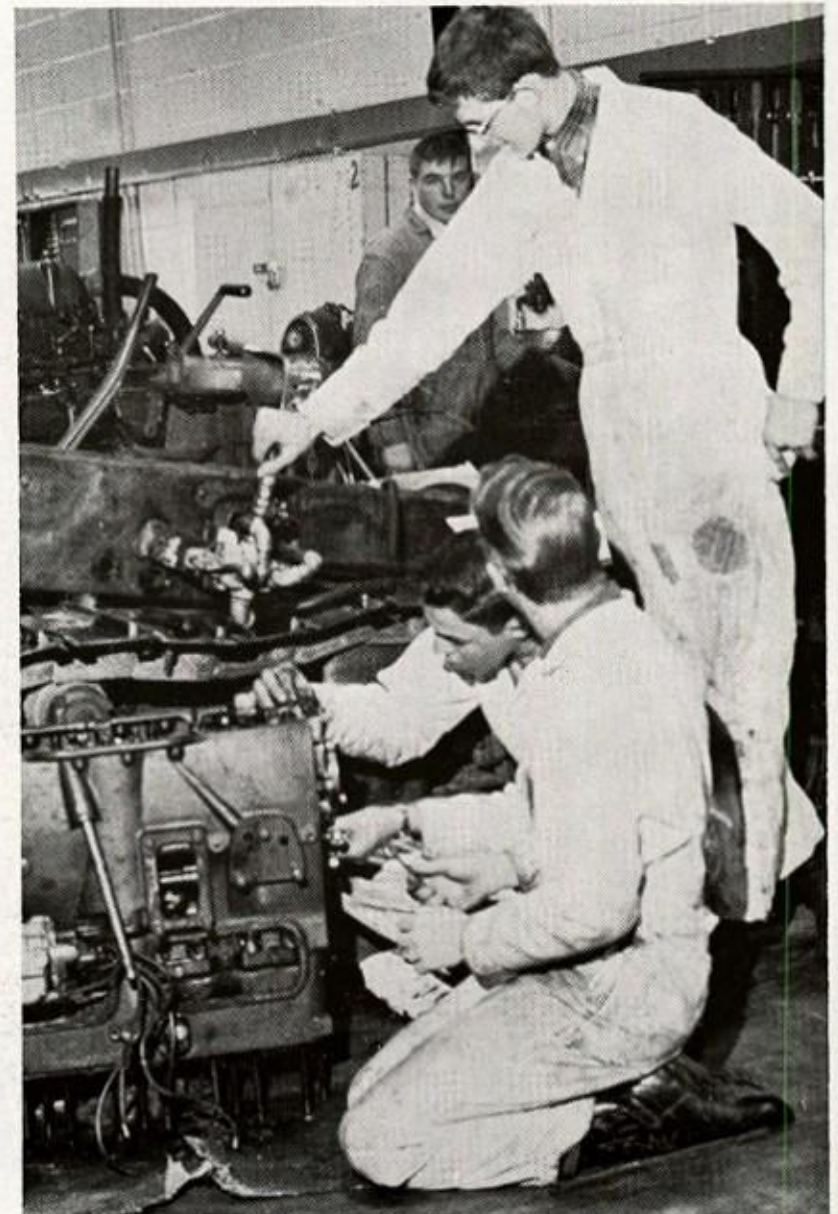

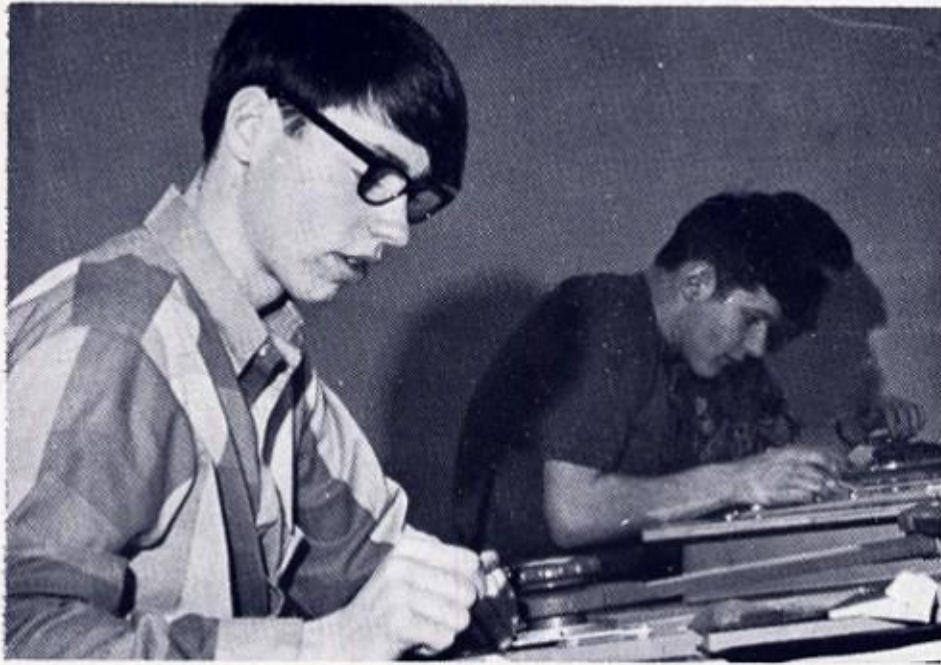

Paul Hansen steam-cleans an engine in the automotive shop.

The shop unit contains six major units: automotive, diesel, building trades, farm mechanics, welding, and machine shop. Each of the major shop units contains an adjacent tool, storage, and change room. Lecture rooms are adjacent to each shop. Overhead cranes have been installed in four of these shops.

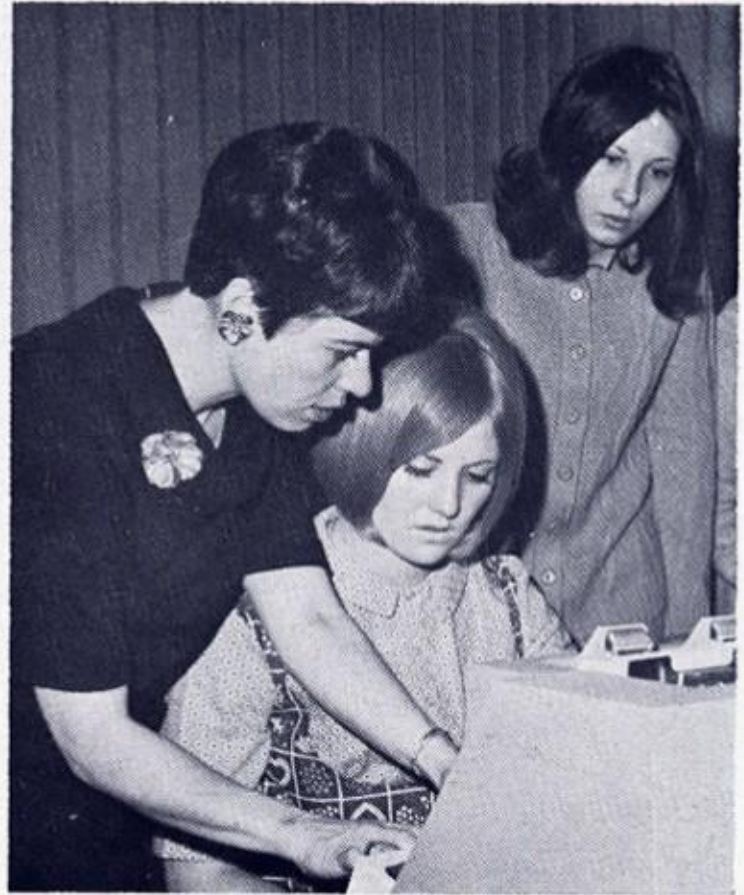

A few of the special features of the shop areas are the hoists, dynamometer, wheel alignment pit, and steam-cleaning room for the automotive shop; diesel test room, sawdust retainer, and paint and finishing rooms in the building trades shop; steel and gas storage and welding stations in the welding shop; and a large overhead door to admit large vehicles into the farm mechanics shop.

Chuck Smith, John Armstrong and Ralph White inspect caterpillar treads, while Louie Mills looks on.

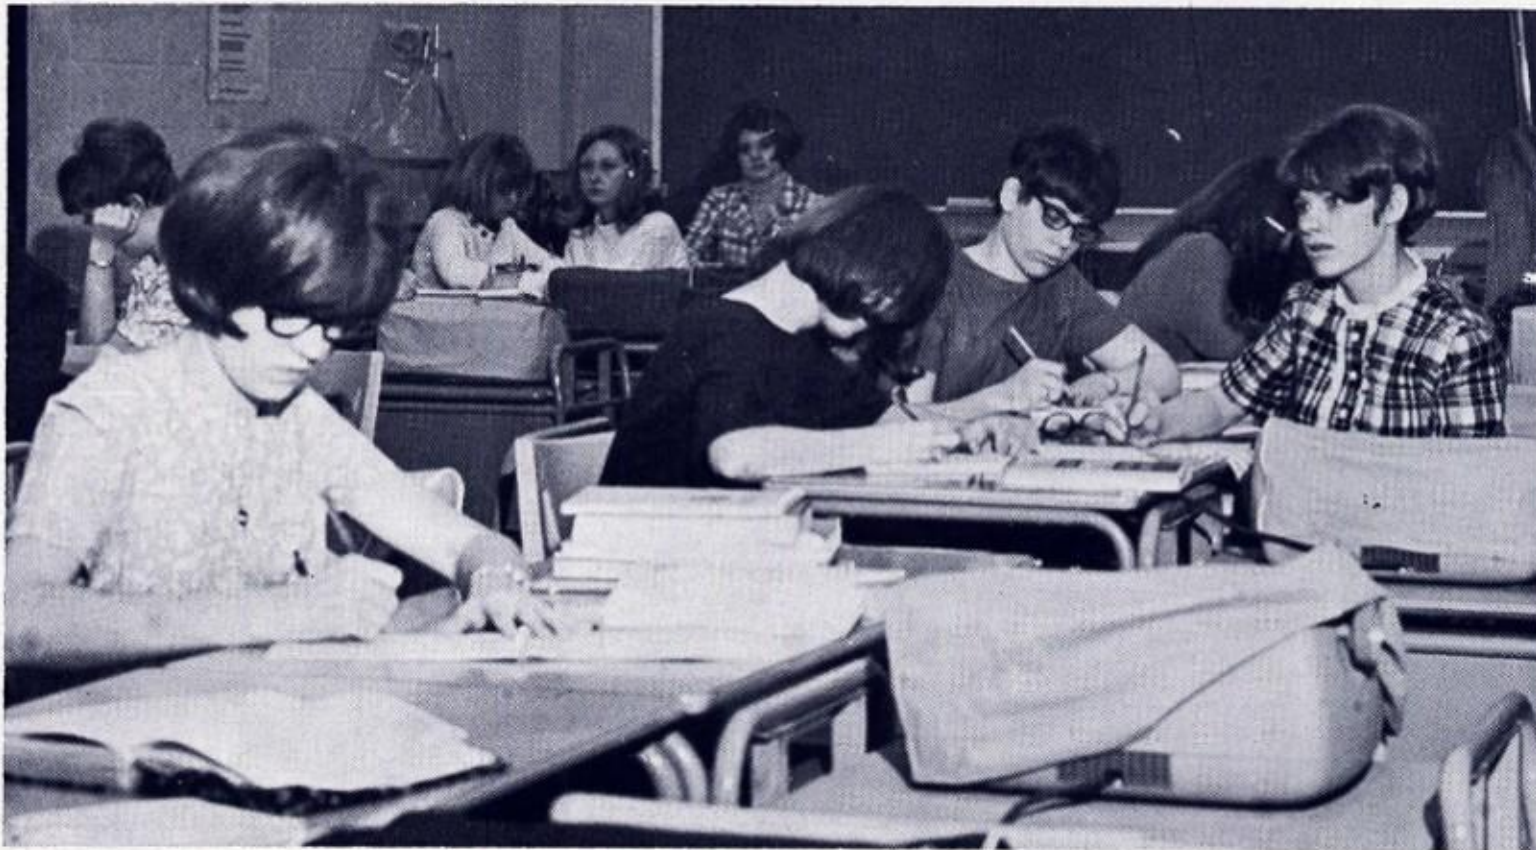

Larry Grames and Marvin Carmichel seem deeply engrossed in their mechanical drawing assignment.

Mrs. Stuart shows Debbie Purdom and Donna Lemon how to work a mimeograph machine.

The two-story classroom-administration unit contains the drafting, electronics, electricity, and business instructional areas. The technical resources center and the administration unit for the school are located on the ground floor. The technical resources center will contain a computer, text book storage, and duplicating facilities. All instructional areas are equipped to receive and broadcast closed circuit T.V.

The exterior of the building will be enhanced by the addition of a flag pole and a metal sculpture designed by the architects and built by the school.

Building Trades Class Sells House

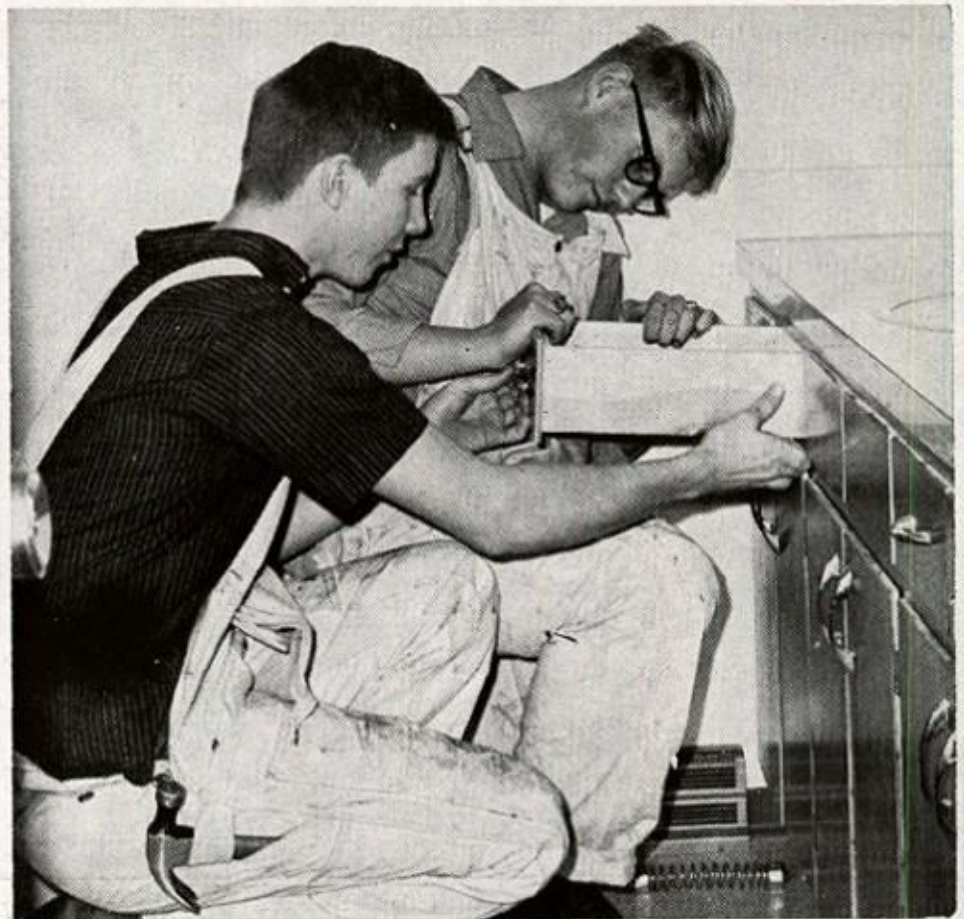

The actual sale of their three-bedroom house, in February of this year, terminated a three-year project for building trades classes. Fifty boys worked on the house during the time it was under construction. Carpentry work was supervised by Mr. Mayer, and journeymen specialists supervised all other jobs. Some construction was done by local contractors on a bid basis.

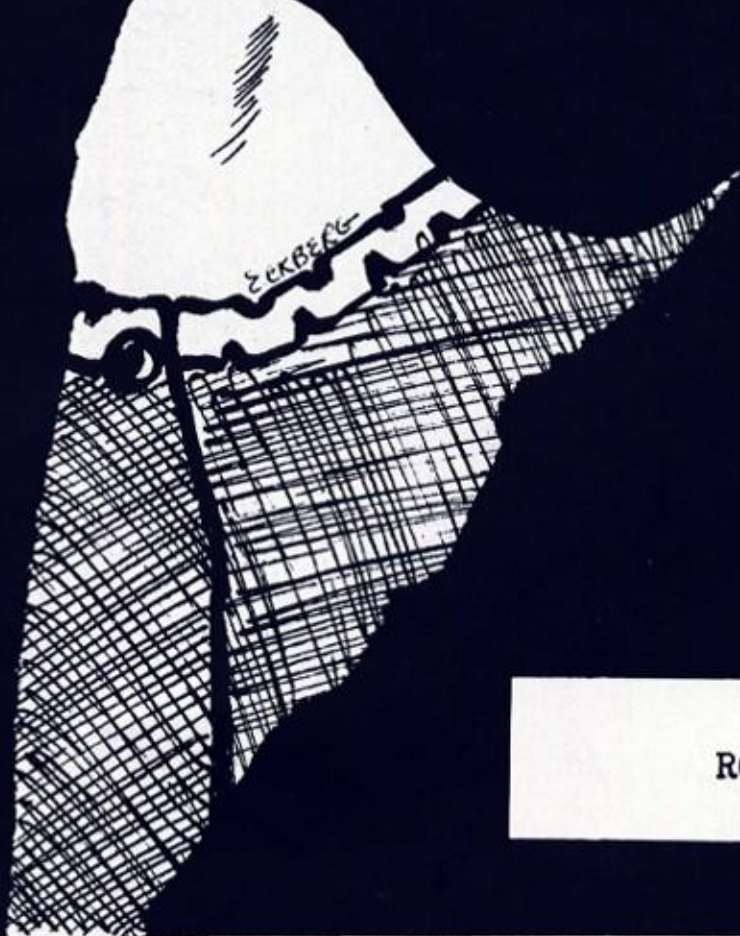

"Is that door knob in the right place?" Randy Pursley asks Sherman Adams.

The house, which is located on the corner of Choteau and Grant Streets, has 1,300 square feet of floor space, including three bedrooms, a bath and three-quarters, and a double garage and driveway. The building was designed by a local architect, and local dealers supplied the materials. The house sold for $22,100.

Randy Pursley gives Sherman Adams a hand with the last drawer.

ROYALTY

Nick and Nancy practicing?

Jennifer Radley, Princess candidate comes out on top. It seems she's won the job of after-coronation-clean-up.

Preparations began in the fall for a special event—the crowning of the 25th Queen Vigilante. Students and faculty together planned, sewed and decorated for the event. Director of the coronation, as she has been for the past twenty-one years, was Mrs. Doris Marshall. Mrs. Marshall had been preparing for months for this coronation, having planned the theme as "Silver Symphony and Wine Red, The American Dream."

Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. Marshall give some last minute instructions.

"Silver Symphony, Wine Red—The American Dream" was chosen as the theme for the twenty-fifth Coronation.

Just before the ceremony started, Yearbook Editor Marilyn Eckberg walked to the middle of the floor and asked for Mrs. Marshall. There was a pause and then tearful protests from the hall; Mrs. Marshall refused to come out in her working clothes, for fear of ruining the beautiful coronation. Finally, Mrs. Sowerwine and Assistant Editor Lynn Phillips escorted a weeping and reluctant drama teacher to the floor. There, Marilyn presented her with a silver dish engraved with the words, "25th Coronation—Queen Doris."

Marilyn Eckberg, Vigilante Editor and Mrs. Sowerwine present Mrs. Marshall with a silver serving dish.

Senior Queen Candidate Nancy Mullen and Manager Tim Morrow.

Senior Queen Candidate Debbie Morgan and Manager Reggie Voiles.

The Bengalettes present their usual excellent performance.

Junior Princess Candidate Ronna Liedle and Manager Jeff Dorrington.

Former Vigilante Queens and Princesses walked toward the throne once more, trumpets sounded and the ceremony began. First Queen Vigilante, Mrs. Vivian Heiser Stiff, spoke a few words in memory of Miss Faye Kirkpatrick, the yearbook sponsor who began the coronation tradition. Past queens and princesses stood as members of the royal court, as the silver-gowned flag bearers marched to the throne carrying the initialed red and white flags representing all the former HSHS royalty.

The band accompanied the Starlighters and the chorus, who sang a gay medley of songs used in past coronations. The criers, in evening attire and top hats, danced with their "Red Velvet Girls" to the strains of a Viennese waltz played by the orchestra. For further entertainment, the Bengalettes, dressed in silver lame, performed a sparkling routine to the tune of "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody."

The high point of the coronation: Nick Cladis crowns Sherri Waters Queen Vigilante.

Dennis White, Fay's manager looks on as she is officially crowned Princess by Nick Cladis.

Tension reached a peak as each princess candidate entered the gym. In a few more seconds came the thrilling announcement. Fay Pearson was the new Princess Vigilante.

Trumpets sounded, signaling the entrance of the queen candidates on the arms of their managers. Silence reigned as the crier began, "Court of Helena High! Your royal queen! Queen Vigilante! Queen . . . Sherri!" With the help of her escort, Grant Gibbs, Sherri ascended the throne where Student Body President Nick Cladis crowned her Queen Vigilante for 1968.

This year's royalty, Fay Pearson and Sherri Waters seated on their thrones. Standing are Grant Gibbs, Sherri's manager, and Student Body President, Nick Cladis.

Queen Vigilante, Sherri Waters, assisted by Grant Gibbs and her younger brother and sister, cuts the cake at the reception.

The 25th anniversary celebration included several additions to the customary procedure. All previous Queens and Princesses received invitations to attend the coronation, and many were on hand. A tea honoring HHS royalty followed the coronation. With the Queens in the receiving line were Mr. Loucks, principal, and several school board and faculty members. All HHS girls were invited to enjoy the cake and punch and to greet the guests of honor.

Vigilante Staff

Building an annual from little more than tradition is a heavier work load than most people realize. With Mrs. Hollie Sowerwine's sympathy and encouragement, however, sixteen talented people managed to turn out the 1967-68 Vigilante.

Editor Marilyn Eckberg experienced most of the headaches that go with the job of organizing and producing a yearbook. Along with the regular editor's routine of trying to keep calm while working through one emergency after another, she used her talent as an artist to create the painting used on the cover and the ink drawings for the division pages. Giving aid and comfort to Marilyn was Layout Editor Delores Pollard, who supervised all pictures used in the yearbook and gave the advertising section a new look. Working with Delores was Cheryll Carroll.

Assistant Editor Lynn Phillips helped keep track of the book's progress and took charge of the Special Areas section. Drew Anderson, as business manager, set a new record for advertising sales, and later helped Kelly Burgess, junior editor, index the entire book.

Eileen Ames helped Lynne Wix organize the Organizations Section. Debbie Boughn, with Pam Smith's aid, put together the Faculty and Coronation sections. Kay Baldwin was sophomore editor. Jerry Lindstrom and Tom Johnson gathered information for the Sports section. The girls who did research and wrote an enormous amount of copy were Anita Ellis, Pam Smith, and Marcia Delano.

Nugget Staff

With Doug Jones' leadership and under Mrs. Sharon Tomcheck's watchful eye, the 1967-1968 Nugget Staff put out fourteen issues of a school newspaper which won an "All State" rating for the year. Timely articles on teenage marriage, alcoholism, and drug addiction captivated readers' interest, as did the spirited articles about routine school life.

Doug Jones spent a great deal of his time working on the Nugget, writing editorials, selecting stories and articles, and supervising all sections of the newspaper. John Larson chose and photographed interesting cars for the feature page, wrote editorials, and worked as Doug Jones' right-hand-man. Sports Editor was Bob Huppe, giving thorough coverage to every sports event. Business Manager Joan Deyerle kept track of newspaper finances and sent bills to the businesses that bought ads from Advertising Manager Doug Sternberg. Doug also managed to find time enough to lay out the ads for each issue. The feature page was enlivened by Steve Wong's column, "Dredgings." Circulation Manager Dan Dietzen supervised Nugget sales and mailing. Diane Beckstrom was the copyreader; she spent countless hours correcting errors before final printings. Mrs. Sharon Tomcheck kept the staff working, reminded them of deadlines, and made final decisions.

Bad weather does not always lower morale, as the track team of 1967 discovered. Although recurring rain forced indoor workouts and eventually led to the cancellation of the JayCee Relays, the team still managed a brilliant five to one season's record. The outstanding achievement came, however, at the Class AA Western Divisional meet, when Helena won. This victory qualified twenty-one members of the team to attend the state meet, where Helena placed sixth out of the ten school competing.

Tennis team has successful season

The 1967 tennis team did well in spite of the late spring snow, winning all of their meets except the Interscholastics in Billings. At the Interscholastics, Alex Colvin and Mark Meloy made it to the quarter-finals in boys' doubles, and Bruce Scott advanced to semi-finals in boys' singles.

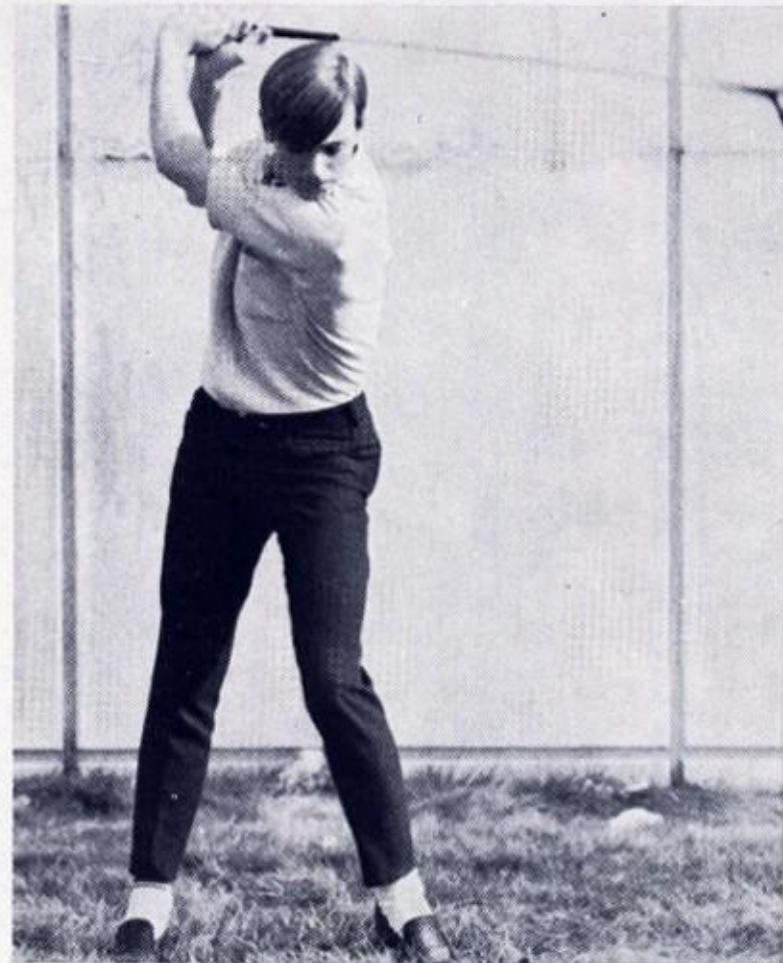

Lettermen for 1967 were Larry Bone, Dave Nelson, Alex Colvin, Bruce Scott, Mark Meloy, Bob Stewart, Bev Robertson, Coleen Monahan, Julie Cougill and Karen Leaphart.

This year's tennis lettermen included: Bruce Scott, Alex Colvin, Bob Stuart and Mark Meloy.

Dick Paulsen practices chipping onto the green.

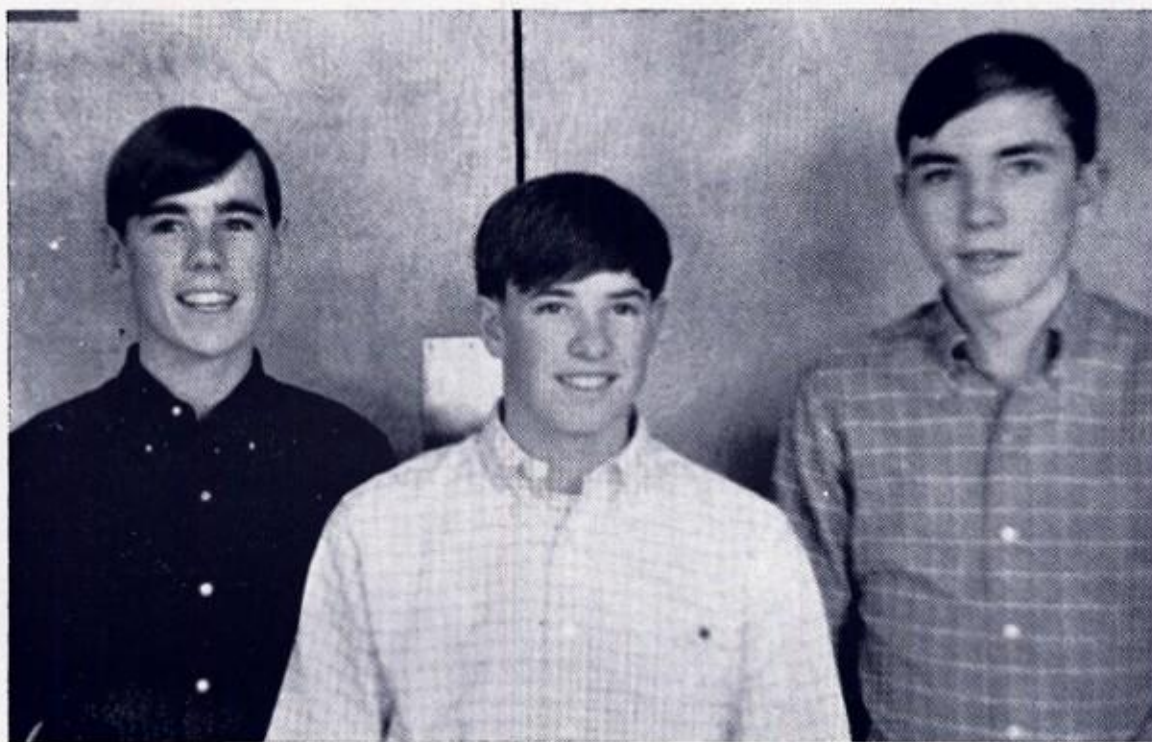

The hard drives of Pat Tubbs help improve his game.

Bad weather hinders golf season

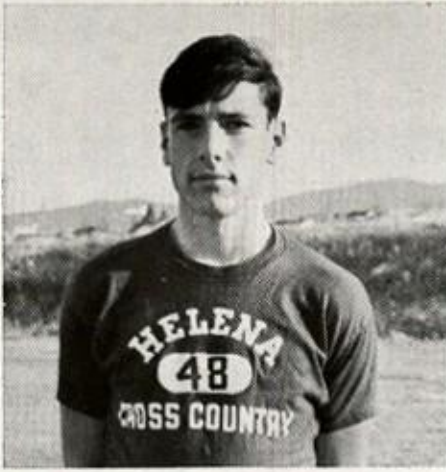

The golf team had its problems during the '67 season. The weather was bad, and all but two meets and the state meet were cancelled. The team was young and inexperienced, but three returning lettermen, Olsen, Paulsen, and Tubbs should form a strong nucleus for the '68 team.

Lettermen were Pat Tubbs, Dick Paulsen, Steve Olsen, Chris Tootell, Orlie Sather, Dennis Typolt, Tex Jawort, and Lynn Turnquist.

HHS Cross Country Team Boasts Six Straight Wins

The 1967 Cross Country Team stormed through meet after meet victoriously, with the best team spirit ever. Within a few weeks, they broke every standing school record. Mike Heier, team captain, established the new senior record for the mile, while Dick Miller and Henry Matson replaced the old junior and senior records. They proved their effectiveness not only individually, but also as a team by winning each of the first six meets. Only at the State AA Tournament did they place as low as third.

Injuries Mar Football Season

Coach Ed Anderson's final season with the Bengals was marred by injuries to key players. The said result was a poor season for the Bengals, who won only one game and lost nine. The lone victory came over the Missoula Sentinel Spartans, long-time Bengal rivals, with a score of 7-6.

Five Bengal seniors were honored by their selection for the All-State Team. They were Jim Sims, Gary Hansen, Reggie Voiles, Fred Ferris, and Tim Morrow. Chosen as Most Valuable Player was Nick Cladis. Fred Ferris was named Most Improved Player.

Co-captains for the Bengal squad were Tim Morrow and Nick Cladis. Assisting Coach Anderson this year were Coaches Bob Loughrie, Mike Murphy, and Pat Connors.

With returning lettermen and a boost of spirit, the new coach should be able to look optimistically toward next year's football season.

Seven Wrestlers Qualify for State

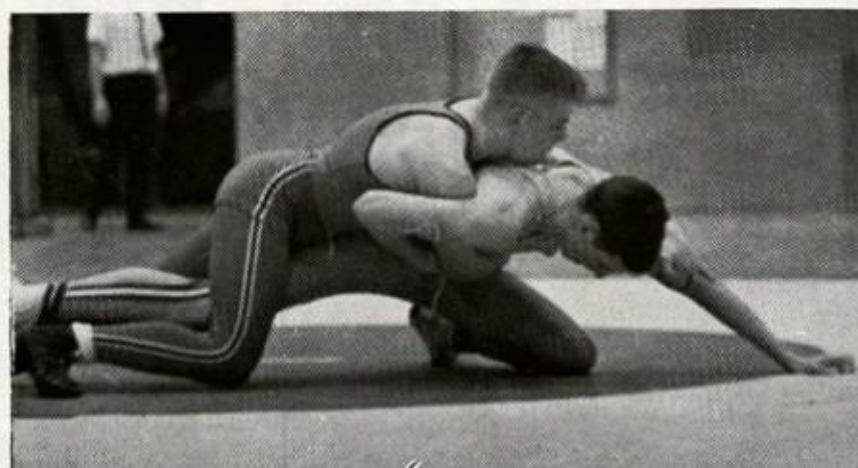

The '67-68 wrestling team had a fairly good season with seven wins and nine losses. They took second at the Butte Christmas Tournament and third at Divisional. Seven wrestlers qualified for the State Tournament.

To participate in the State Tournament, the wrestlers had to place first, second, third or fourth at the Divisional Tournament. Among the seven who placed was Bob Huppe, who took first at Divisional and was named the outstanding wrestler at the tournament. The others were Nick Cladis, who placed third; Gary Hansen, third; Randy Strom, first; Steve Czehura, second; Jim Davis, fourth; and Louie Grandy, third.

Gary Hansen was awarded the Quick Pin trophy by coaches Anderson, Wooden, and head coach Cohn.

Six Skiers Win Berths on Junior National Ski Team

The ski team enthusiastically set off for the competition with a promising season ahead and a good year for snow. Hopes for a state-championship dimmed, however, at the loss of veteran Whit Hibbard at the state meet in Bozeman. Helena placed fifth. The girls' cross-country team was bolstered by the addition of Norwegian cross-country star, Guri Paulsen.

"Around the next corner and I'll duck into the trees," gasps Tom Johnson.

Guri Paulsen, HHS's foreign exchange student from Norway, warms up for the five kilometer cross-country race at the state meet.

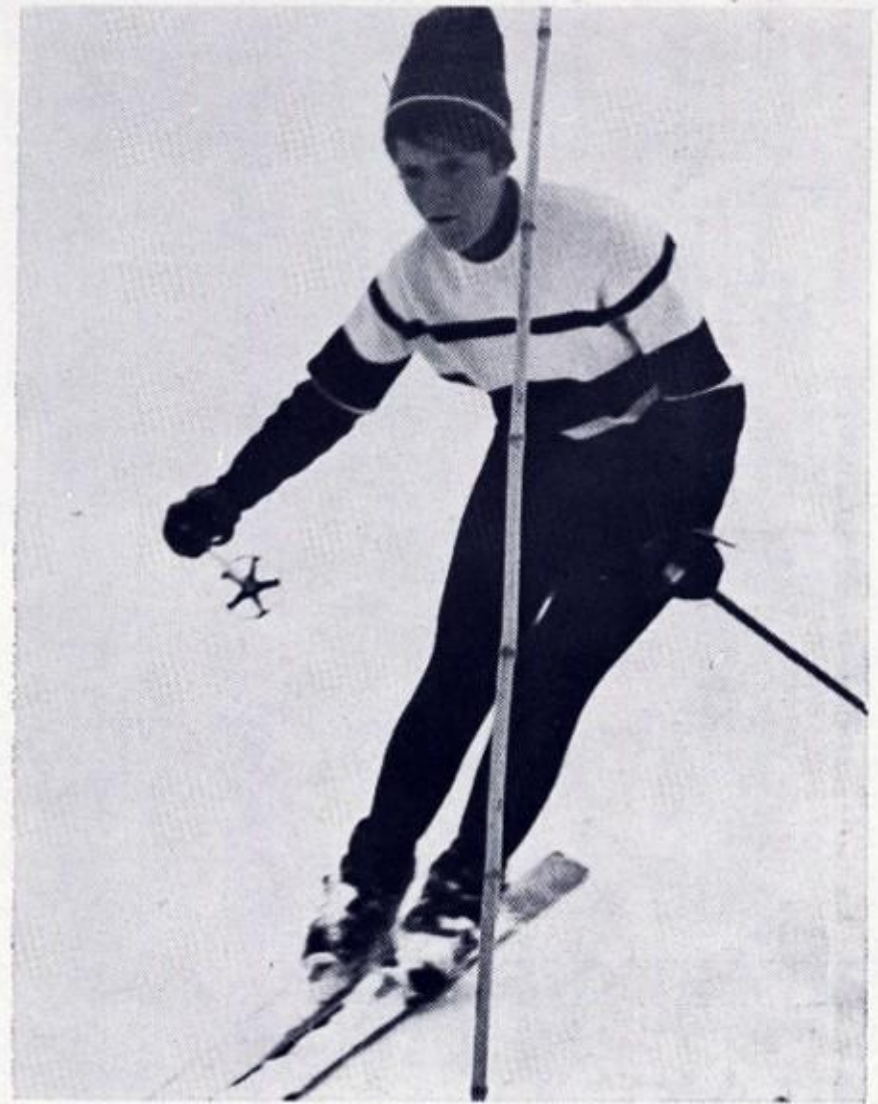

For the first time in Helena High's history six skiers qualified for berths on the Junior National Ski Team. They were Jerry Lindstrom, Kim Childs, Ken Thompson, Steve Settle, Peggy Hollow, and Guri Paulsen. Guri was unable to participate, however, because she is not a U.S. citizen.

Kim Childs and Ken Thompson survey Bozeman's cross-country course.

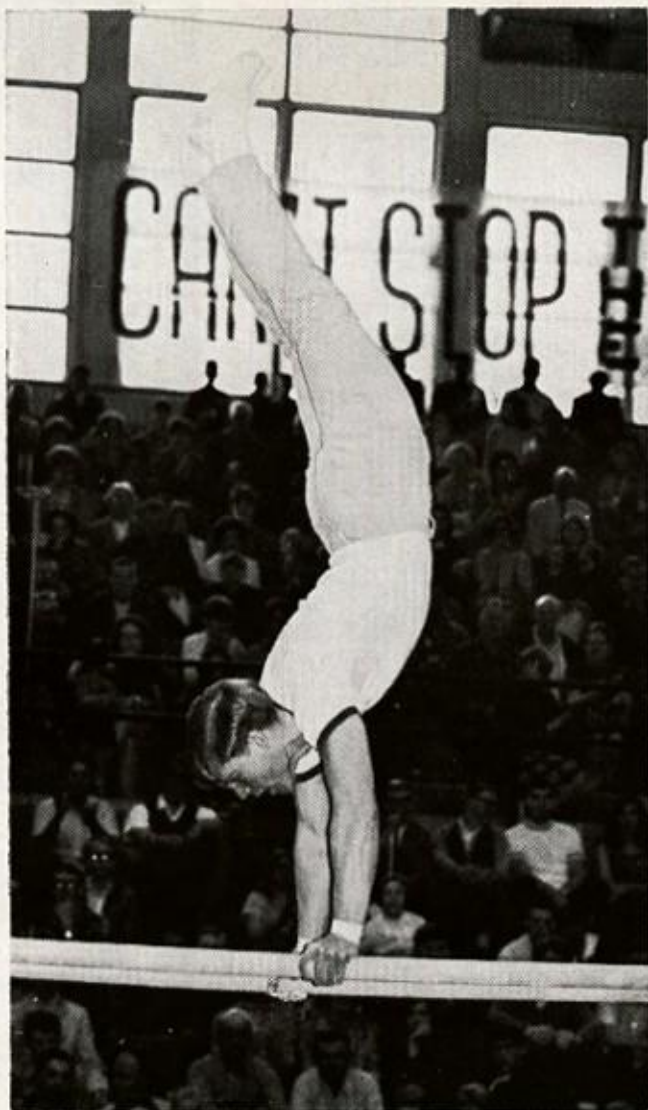

In perfect form, Kelly Burgess, races down the mountain in Great Falls, to win the downhill.

Gymnastics Includes Girls This Year

The gymnastics team, with several pieces of new equipment, grew this year to include girls! Under Coach Roy Delong, the team started nearly from scratch and will go interscholastic in '68. Their four nights a week of working out paid off when they provided half-time entertainment at three basketball games.

Tramp Team Performs at Class C Tourney

Cradles, brannies, back and front drops, suicides, turn-tables and flips were just a few of the stunts performed by this year's trampoline team. Miss Holmberg, the sponsor, helped prepare the fifteen members for three halftimes during home basketball games and the Class C Tournament. As special entertainment, the tumbling, gymnastics and trampoline teams put on a joint halftime performance. Lynn Phillips and Dean Lewis stunned the audience by doing a dismount from the air onto the floor. Later a few team members performed another feat, a back flip through a hula-hoop. The members of the trampoline team are: Delores Pollard, Sharon Christofferson, Mimi Doering, Sue Brownlow, Lynn Phillips, Dean Lewis, Sonja Krugg, Carol Incornato, Beth Williams, Ronna Liedle, Karen Leaphart, Cathy Wardell, Patti Bouchard, Randi Doering and Kim Lindstrom.

"Which one do I watch?" asks Delores Pollard during the doubles routine of Cathy Wardell and Karen Leaphart.

The tumblers use teamwork to execute a balance performance at a Class C tournament halftime.

Tumbling team is an agile group

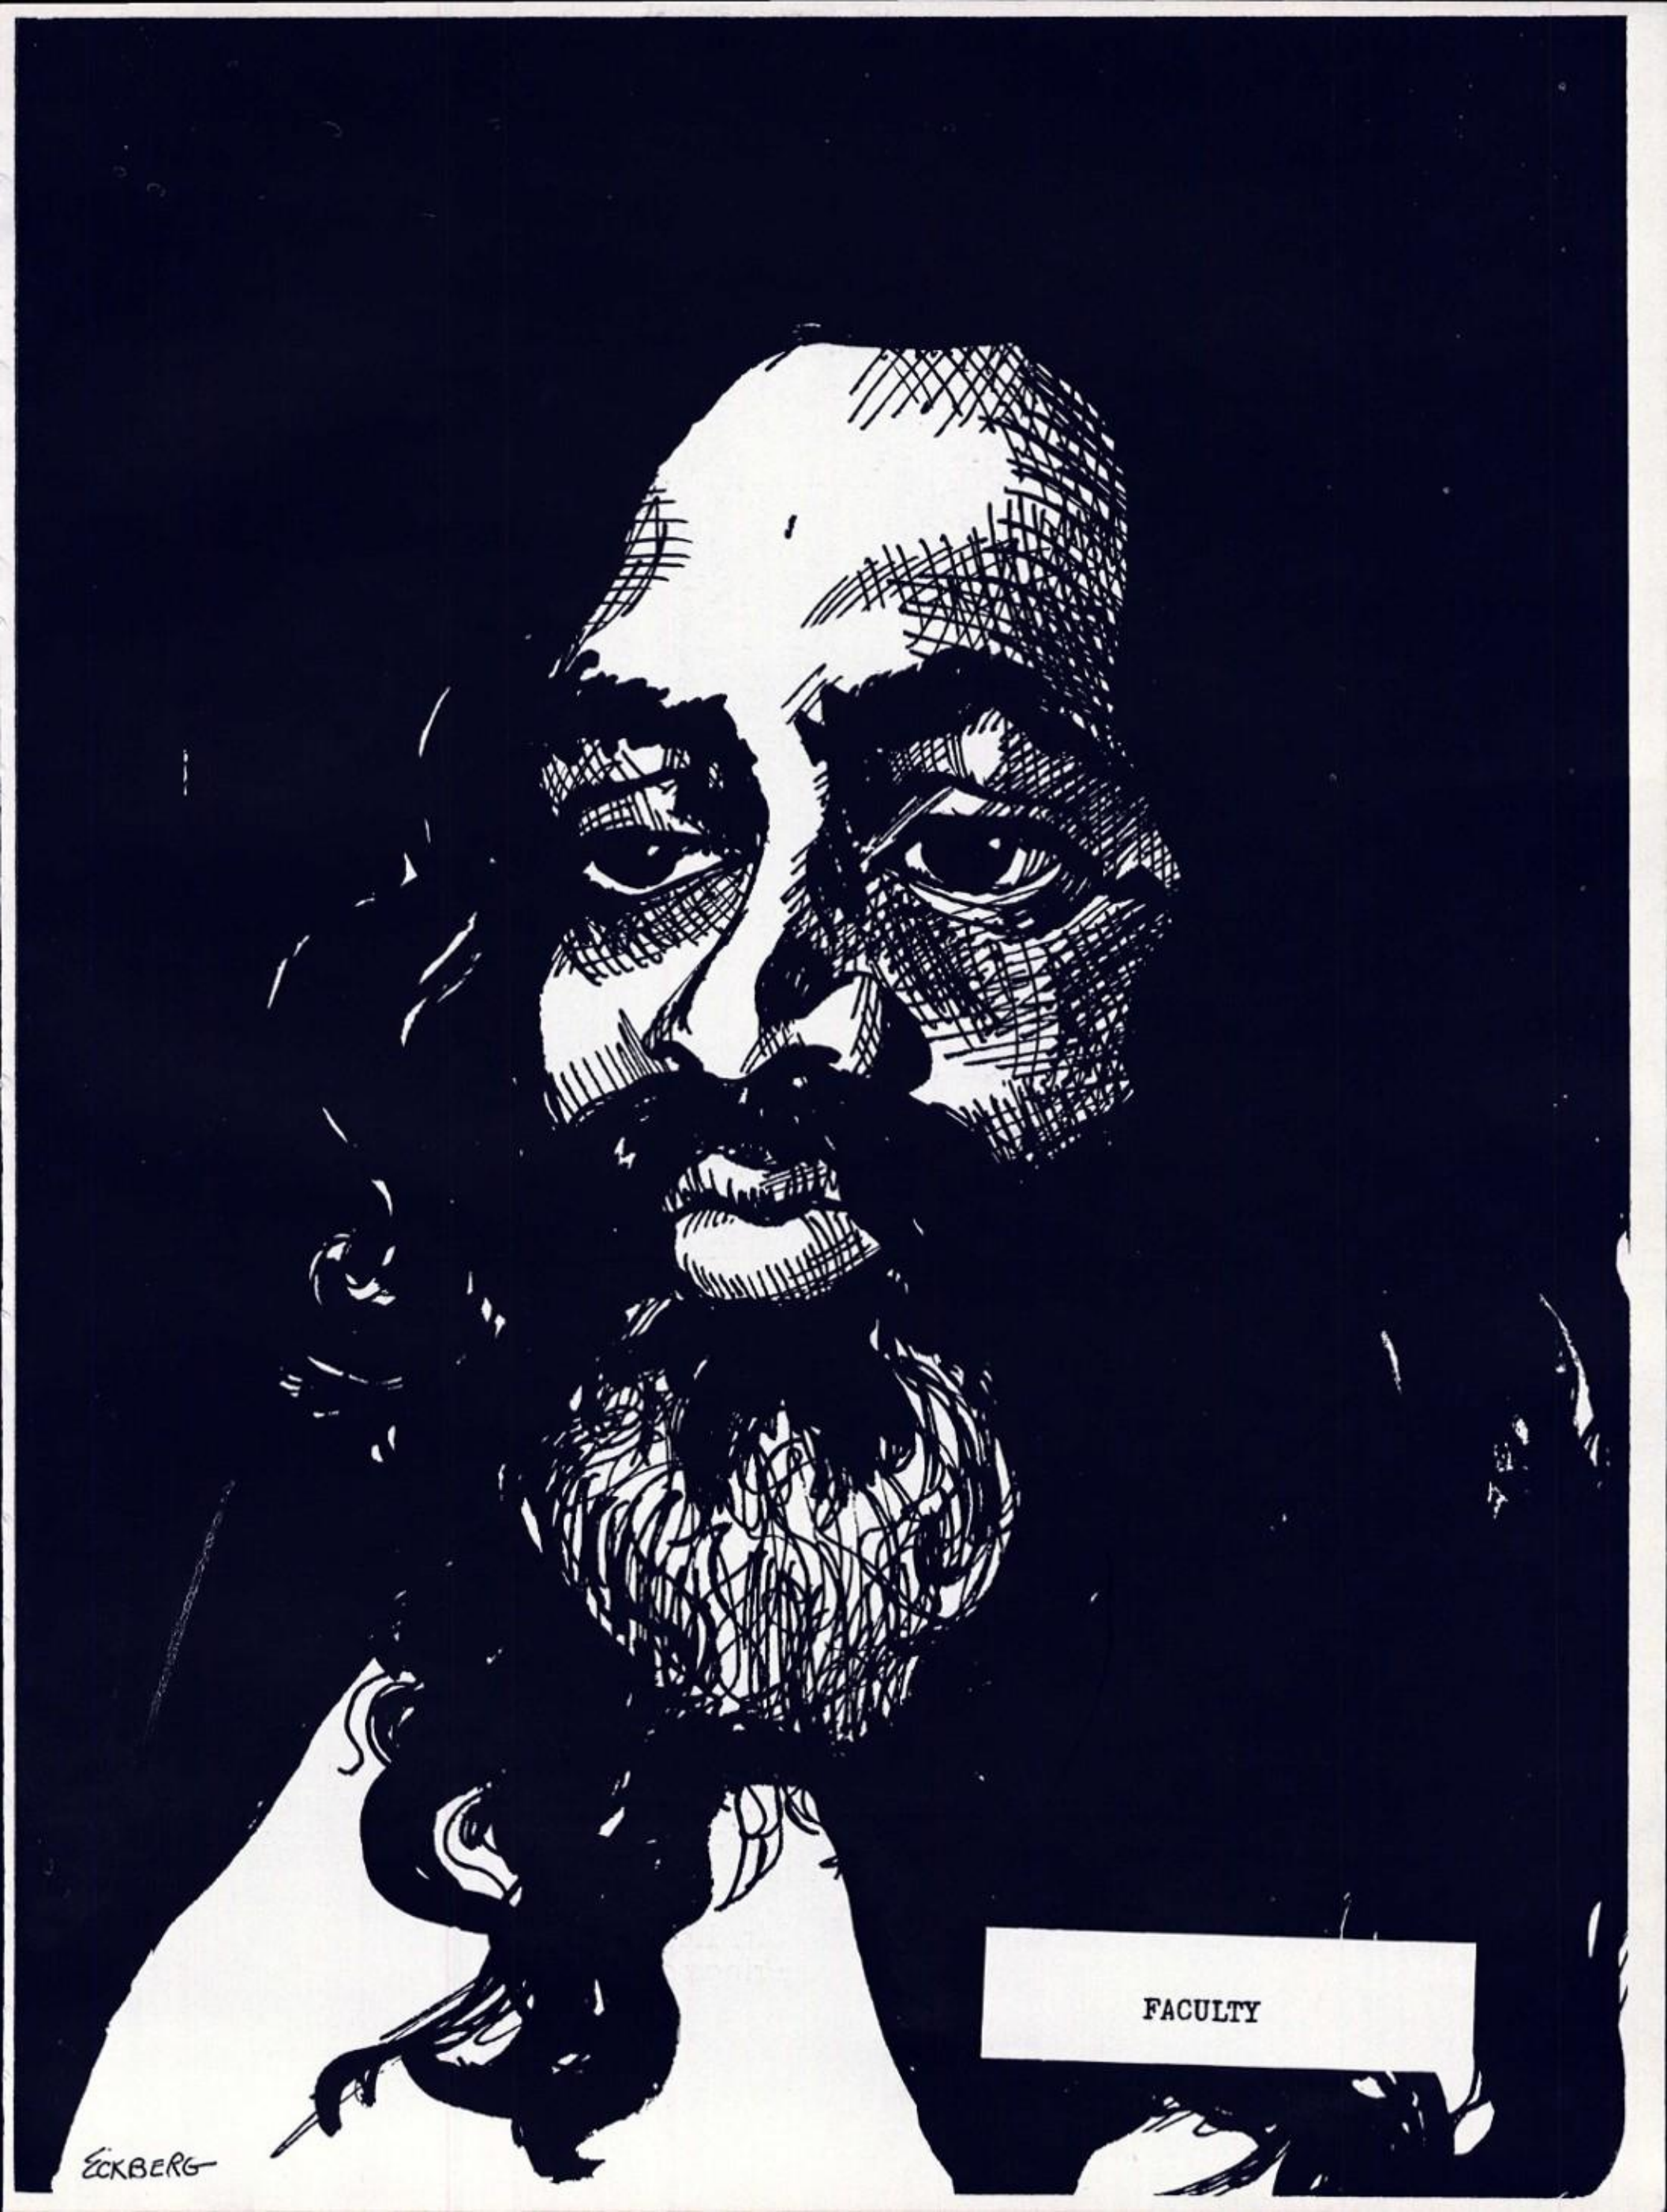

The members of the tumbling team are chosen on the basis of individual performance in a minimum of ten stunts displaying strength, agility, and coordination. Team members qualified by performing for a panel of judges made up of returning team members, faculty members, and the tumbling team coach.

Performances were given during the regular basketball season and during the State Class C Tournament. In their programs, tumblers exhibited individual, partner, and group routines of flips, balances, and tumbling.

Mrs. Marietta Peters was coach. Team members not pictured below were Bonnie Bompert, Pam Olson, Bob Berry, Sandee Bowman, Nancy Cason, Grove Hull, and Dennis White.

Administration

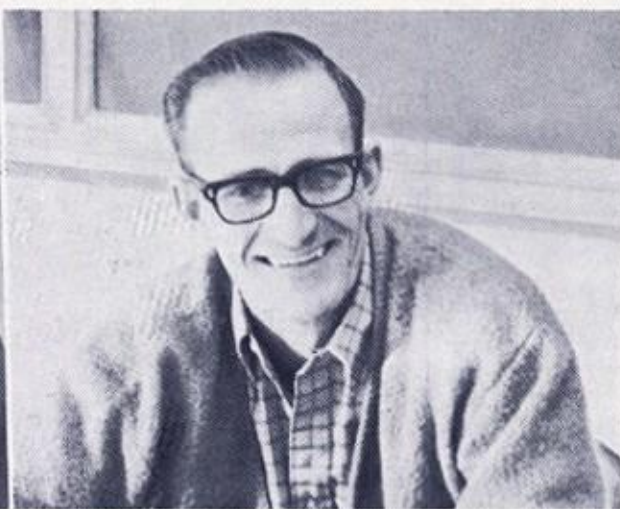

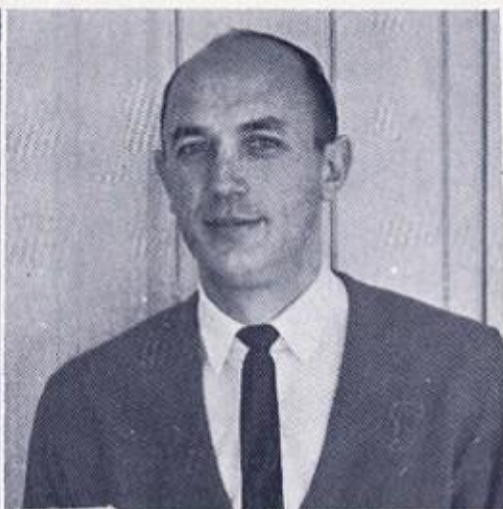

If students have been successful during their three years as part of Helena Senior High School, they will approach the next step in their lives with confidence.

Whether they go on to college, university, advanced specialized training, military service, or the world of work, students can go confidently if they have developed the capacity for inquiry, problem-solving competence, communication and computation skills, familiarity with organized disciplines, cultivated enjoyments, and democratic commitment.

In addition, the successful students know how to learn, and have developed skill in understanding relationships, initiating action, and understanding people.

Have you been successful?

During the past decades...

hundreds of Helena students have saved regularly the 'American Way.'

For some, their savings paid for a college education, other accounts provided cash with which to take advantage of a business opportunity or was a safeguard against financial adversity.

We're proud of them all and the opportunity we had to help them.
